Big Red Gains Spell Extended Italian Crisis

By DENNIS REDMONT
Associated Press Writer
ROME (AP) — The Communists made strong gains in the Italian parliamentary elections but failed to overtake the Christian Democrats, who again missed a majority in the Chamber of Deputies by a sizeable margin.

This set the stage today for renewed political uncertainty and another long crisis over the formation of a new Christian Democratic government. It also meant that action to ease Italy's grave economic crisis is a long way off.

Despite the prospect of continuing political and economic instability, the stock market and the lira rallied because of the Communists' failure to displace the Christian Democrats as the country's largest party.

Gains in early trading on the Milan Stock Exchange averaged 2.5 per cent, while the lira rose from 554 to the dollar to 844-848.

"In the long run the continuing political and economic uncertainty will depress the prices again," one broker commented.

More than one out of three voters cast a Communist ballot in the elections Sunday and Monday for the new Chamber of Deputies, boosting the party from 27.2 per cent of the vote in 1972 to 34.4 per cent. The Vatican-backed Christian Democrats got 38.7 per cent, the same showing they made four years ago.

This gave the Christian Democrats the chance to form their 35th government since World War II. But to get the parliamentary majority necessary for effective government, they needed to rebuild their center-left coalition with the Socialists, Social Democrats and Republicans which collapsed in January. And the Socialists said during the election campaign that the coalition was a dead issue.

Communist party secretary Enrico Berlinguer, surveying a sea of clenched fists and red flags below the balcony of his Rome headquarters, said the election result was "a great leap forward."

"We will have to deal with the Christian Democrats, and they will finally realize that they have to deal with us," he declared.

However, the Christian Democrats campaigned on a pledge to keep the Communists out of the government. And Berlinguer ruled out "a head-on clash," saying: "The Communist party is not in a hurry to go into the government. It was not before. It is not now, even if it has obtained a big result."

There was no immediate comment on the election outcome from the U.S. government, which repeatedly warned that admission of the Communists to the government would endanger relations between the Italian and American governments and Italy's role in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. But the failure of the Communists to lead the voting undoubtedly was a relief for President Ford and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

Attorneys Say FBI Threatened Nurses

DETROIT (AP) — Attorneys for two nurses accused in the Ann Arbor Veterans Administration Hospital murder case charged Monday that the FBI violated the women's rights by interrogating and threatening them in an attempt to secure a confession.

The defense, in a motion filed in U.S. District Court, asked the court to restrain FBI agents from questioning the women, Filipina Narciso and Leonora M. Perez, unless agents receive written permission from the defense.

The motion came as Miss Narciso, 30, of Ypsilanti and Mrs. Perez, 31, a former Ann Arbor resident, appeared before U.S. District Court Judge Philip Pratt in a courtroom packed with more than 150 spectators.

Most of the spectators said they were Filipinos and were there in support of the two nurses, both of whom are Philippines citizens.

The hearing, called to consider bond for the women, was adjourned Monday after six defense witnesses testified they did not feel the women would flee if released on bond.

No decision was made, and the hearing will continue Thursday.

Both women are lodged in the Washtenaw County Jail in Ann Arbor. Miss Narciso, arraigned last week in Chicago, has been denied bond up to now. Mrs. Perez, arraigned in Detroit earlier Monday, is being held on $500,000 cash bond in Manila, the Philippine government asked the United States today to grant bail to Mrs. Narciso.

The Foreign Affairs department also contended that the $500,000 bail for the other nurse, Mrs. Perez, was excessive.

Foreign Secretary Carlos P. Romulo also ordered the Philippine consulate general in Chicago to request that no handcuffs be used on the two women. He also asked for copies of hospital records and charts of the patients involved in the murder case for study by his department.

At her arraignment before U.S. Magistrate Chris E. Smith, Mrs. Perez said, "I am innocent and with the advice of my legal counsel, I stand mute," — the same words used by Miss Narciso.

Passenger Ferry Running

COPPER HARBOR, Mich. (AP) — New passenger ferry service has been started between Copper Harbor and Lighthouse Point in Lake Superior four miles east of Copper Harbor.

The "Copper Queen II" started the run Sunday. The 40-passsenger boat will make the 20-minute trip every hour with service continuing through September.

The new line is operated by Donald Kilpela, who also operates the ferry service between Copper Harbor and Isle Royale.

Throwaway Bottle Vote Petitions Challenged

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state Court of Appeals has agreed to hear a suit challenging more than 300,000 signatures on petitions aimed at banning nonreturnable bottles and cans in Michigan.

In an order Monday, the court set a July 1 hearing date on the suit, which claims the signatures—filed with the state Elections Division earlier this month—were filed too late.

The suit also contends the petitions on which the signatures appeared were drafted improperly and were misleading.

Meanwhile, the Board of State Canvassers cannot certify the petitions as valid, the appeals court said.

That certification is the first step toward putting the issue on the Nov. 2 ballot.

A decision by the appeals court that the signatures are invalid could keep the question off the ballot, delaying a resolution of the issue of whether nonreturnable beverage containers should be taboo here.

A state elections official said after the court's ruling that his office technically needs 100 days between the time the board certifies the petitions and the issue appears on the ballot.

Forty of these days must be legislative session days during which the legislature can approve or reject the proposed new law.

Those who filed the suit with both the appeals court and the Ingham County Circuit Court earlier this month include Michigan AFL-CIO President William Marshall; Michigan Soft Drink Association Director William Kreger; Charles Younglove, director, District 29 of the United Steelworkers of America, as well as individual steelworkers, glassblowers and grocery store owners.

The suits contend the signature should have been filed by May 25. They also claim the petition did not clearly state its aim to ban nonreturnable beverage containers.

Instead, the wording on the petition says it is a measure to "initiate legislation to provide for the use of returnable containers."

The petition drive to put the issue on the ballot was spearheaded by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, and the first signature was placed by Gov. William Milliken.

This is the second attempt to put on the ballot the question of whether nonreturnable containers should be banned. The legislature has failed to take action on several bills which would do so.

London Applauds Crosby On Fifty Years Of Song

LONDON (AP) — Bing Crosby, celebrating half a century in show business, got a standing ovation and praise from the critics Monday night for his first performance in London since World War II.

"Crosby gave a perfect exhibition of what popular singing can be," wrote Geoffrey Wansell in the Times of London. "The register and the range are only just there, but the pitch is still perfect and the tone and phrasing are magical."

"If the gall was stiff the larynx was in superlative order," said John Barber in the Daily Telegraph.

"He is unique," said Arthur Thirkell in the Daily Mirror. No other entertainer "has so consistently projected his talents with such warmth and amiability."

Crosby told the packed house at the Palladium why he was on stage at the age of 72: "I was in Los Angeles recently when a man came up to me and said, 'Didn't you used to be Bing Crosby?' " Crosby said he decided he would have to keep on working and the Palladium

— "the Mecca for strolling players" — would be ideal.

Performing with him in his three-hour show were his wife, Kathryn, their children, Mary, Henry and Nathaniel, the Joe Bushkin Quartet, and guest star Rosemary Clooney, who first sang at the Palladium 21 years ago.

Crosby is donating the $122,500 his 13 sold-out shows are expected to net to six charities. They include British organizations for cancer relief and that provide playing fields and adventure holidays for youngsters.

OPEN TO TRAFFIC: The eastbound lanes of the new Morrison channel bridge were opened to traffic at 2:30 p.m. Monday. The bridge was originally scheduled to be opened last Friday but rain caused a delay in applying a preservative. Traffic from St. Joseph to Benton Harbor will use the new bridge. Traffic from

Benton Harbor to St. Joseph will use the old bridge until approaches to the new bridge are paved later this summer. A second bridge, across the main river channel which forms the boundary between the two cities, is scheduled for completion in 1977.

Baseball's Latest Bean Ball

Congress and the courts are the most unwieldy forums imaginable to guide the destiny of an endeavor as erratic as professional sports, but starting with a law suit in the early 1900s involving baseball's reserve clause the two of them have been lending their expert advice to problems which never should get past the locker room.

The latest demonstration is a suit filed this week by Charlie Finley, owner of the Oakland Athletics, to set aside an order by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn voiding the sale of three stars to the New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox.

The buyers agreed between them to pay Oakland $3.5 million for two pitchers and an outfielder.

Finley put the deal together because the trio were playing out their options this season. Convinced they would not sign up again with him regardless of money terms, the colorful Oakland club owner acted while their present contracts are still enforceable either by him or by an assignee.

Kuhn, the object of a Finley ouster move a few years ago, declared the transfer outside the foul line.

A wholesale shift of that much talent, he ruled, would leave the Athletics in shambles and give the money laden Yankees and Red Sox an undue edge over less well heeled clubs.

He took as his authority a highly generalized statement in the master contract under which all owners extend to the Commissioner the authority and duty to maintain the game's integrity.

Since Finley's suit challenges Kuhn's move as offensive to the anti-trust laws, the courts will have to decide if integrity refers to something like the 1919 gambling scandal or several White Sox star players or embraces the Commissioner's wider view of maintaining as best he can all of the clubs on a financial parity.

Inasmuch as Kuhn's comments in announcing his decision leave no room for doubt the second consideration prompted his veto, it would seem the learned judges would almost have to say the American and National Leagues are a conspiracy among the owners in restraint of trade.

Whatever direction their decision may take, it does not necessarily mean the end of big league baseball, only that its future is uncertain.

Ever since the big royalties from television, paid for by advertisers of various products, became the difference between profit and loss for the national pastime, football, basketball, and more recently golf and tennis, owners and players alike have lost the perspective which Kuhn, however shaky may be his legal premise, seeks to preserve.

This is the well known fact that if one team consistently overshadows its rivals eventually the fans will lose interest.

The box office is the first to feel that disenchantment, but inevitable the effect will work around to the boob tube.

The best means to maintain an overall competitive atmosphere is to distribute the talent as evenly as possible.

The reserve clause, a contract binding a player to a team for a specified period of time, has been the vehicle.

The early 1900 decision by the U.S. Supreme Court upheld this personal service arrangement.

Today it under serious erosion and seemingly on its way out entirely.

Player unions have successfully challenged it as economic slavery, contending that an athlete should be free to bargain his capability to whomever will pay the most.

Aiding greatly in the breach against the reserve clause has been a rash of competing promoters who look upon sports as an exciting way to earn a quick buck.

The recent bankruptcies of the World Football League and the American Basketball Association, plus the World Hockey League's instability, may indicate otherwise, but thus far those developments have not noticeably reduced professional sports' financial hyperkineticism.

Neither have the owners in the older, more established leagues adopted a position to pull their respective games toward a sounder condition.

Not being the best loved personality in baseball, Finley's dramatic, unilateral move is suspect for all manner of dark motives. The strongest accusation has him dismantling his club and getting out of baseball while the departure can net him a bundle.

Enemies though they be in their controversy, Bowie and Finley do point out the cliff over which professional sport will tumble if free-for-all bidding for talent becomes the order of the day.

Baltic Shame Lingers After 36 Long Years

Twenty years of independence — followed by 36 years of rule by Russia which, in violation of solemn treaties, occupied their lands and forced them into the Soviet empire.

That is the history of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania in the years that have passed since 1920 when they were given national identities under the treaty of Versailles.

The invasion of these three countries in 1940, stands as one of the great crimes of modern history. In 1932 they had entered into non-aggression pacts with the Soviet Union. The end came swiftly eight years later on the heels of a sudden ultimatum. Two months more and the three nations formally were declared part of Russia.

Available information has it that by 1950, 200,000 Latvians had been deported from their homeland; by 1952, 350,000 Lithuanians had been forcibly evacuated and 25,000 killed; and, by 1955, a total of 90,000 Estonians had been sent to Siberia.

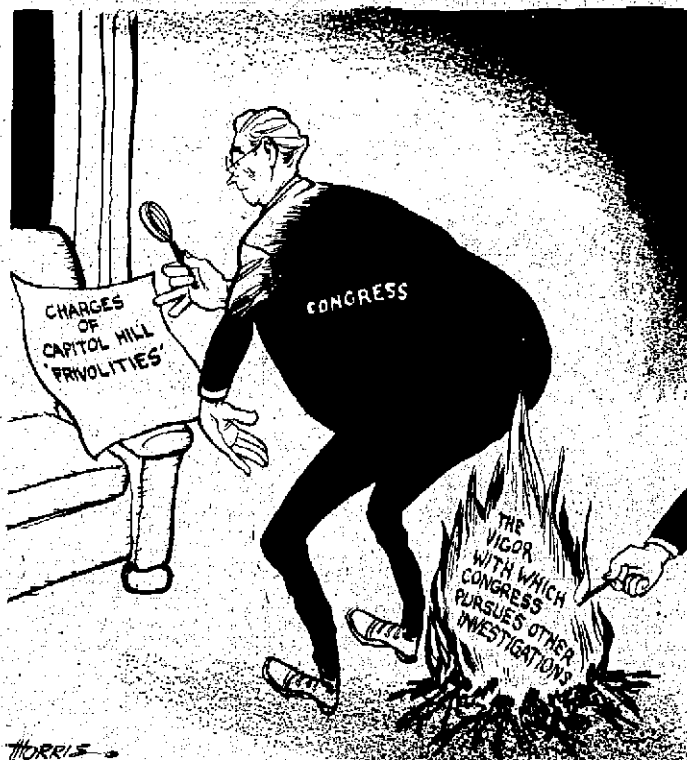

In the United States a year of mourning was observed in 1960 by the American Baltic Commemorative Committee under the honorary chairmanship of Herbert Hoover. The purpose was to "make these brave people realize that their friends in the free world have not forgotten them."

A similar observance is overdue. In fact, this should be an annual affair, with all free nations invited to join.

STRAIGHT INCOME TAX IS FAVORED

Editor,
As Mr. W.C. Marshall, president of the Michigan State AFL-CIO, predicted, motherhood and tax reform at favored by everyone, and that includes me. But from that opening point on his letter of June 11, I don't see eye-to-eye with Mr. Marshall.

There may indeed be some corporations and wealthy individuals who shoulder a smaller share of the burden than most individual Americans. Here I sense a touch of envy on his part, and possibly on the part of a segment of his membership.

Consider, however, how small the debt would be in the national debt, if those corporations and individuals would turn over their whole profit, or even their whole income, to the Federal treasury. A drop in the bucket perhaps.

But the national loss would be tremendous! In the hands of the corporations and individuals these funds maintain and even create jobs, bringing and spreading more profit. In the government coffers it leads to more handouts, more bureaucracy, more socialism and interference with the free market.

In recent years we've seen slumps in sales and profits bring layoffs. If higher taxes cause a boost in prices, a slump in sales and profits will follow, and then layoffs come again.

Don't kid yourself that corporations pay taxes! None of them do! They only channel owners' money and customers' money into government hands. After all, only people pay taxes.

Consider instead for tax reform the multitudes who form an ever-greater drain on tax funds, without contributing their share: the ones in the lower income brackets and the ones who haven't worked for generations. As long as they retain their vote and reap more than their share of the benefits, it seems only fair that they pay at least some tax.

Thus I recommend tax reform based on no exemptions and a straight (non-graduated) income tax for all, and dispensing with corporate taxes altogether.

FED UP WITH RISING PRICES

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following letter was accompanied by a newspaper clipping that was headlined "Wholesale Coffee Price Up".)

Editor,
Who needs this? I'm about fed up with prices going up and up.

Like the lady wrote in about a week ago, about the price of everything going up. Well, who needs this stuff so bad we can't get along without it?

Come on ladies, let's stop this price going up for this and that and goods aren't as good as they should be. Coffee prices are going up (wholesale, 30 to 35 cents a pound). Let's drink milk, tea or pop, or any of the other drinks they have in stores.

I'm 57 years old and thought I would die if I didn't have my two pots of coffee a day. Hey, I got news for you. I just have coffee for breakfast and supper, three cups, instead of two pots. I feel better and find I can drink milk or tea or pop with my other meal and (water) instead of coffee breaks.

So, let's all try and see if we can band together and if we see they jack-up the price of one thing, let's use something else. If it doesn't sell, the price will come down. Like sugar, spray and things like that.

Jeffrey Hart Private Morals And Public Trust

Appropos of the Wayne Hays sex scandal, more than one commentator has remarked that the private lives of Congressmen are probably no better or worse than those of any other group of around 500 people.

Bunk. People like Hays inhale a kind of ozone, the ozone of power. It tends to remove restraints both public and private. And their private morals, indeed, most certainly are connected with their discharges of official duties.

One of the more implausible theories now accorded wide acceptance holds that private behavior has nothing to do with an individual's public life, as if he could be Dorian Gray or Mr. Hyde behind drawn curtains but Cato the Elder is the House Office Building.

If Wayne Hays — and others like him — had remained in his local cabbage patch, the chances are that the ordinary conditions of existence would have imposed upon him the ordinary restraints, e.g., mere lack of opportunity.

Place him, however, in the marble halls of Congress, awash with money and power, give him a hand in the disposal of billions of dollars and a large influence over both the comforts and the political fate of his colleagues, and then — see what sort of individual strides forth and disports himself before our gaze.

Ninety-five per cent or more of a Congressman's supposedly public behavior is in fact invisible to the public. Even "clean" good-government types, smiled on by the liberal press and full of the rhetoric of idealism, routinely attach self-serving riders to complex legislation, riders that allocate substantial sums to favored projects or fortunate constituents. If you're spending billions, hundreds of billions, what difference does a few hundred thousand make? "Unreal city," wrote T.S. Eliot of London, and he might as well have been talking about Washington.

We are routinely told that what a Congressman like Hays does behind drawn curtains has no bearing on his public behavior, and ought to be exempt from both scrutiny and judgment. Common sense rejects this proposition.

To be sure, a certain lack of curiosity about the private lives of well known individuals keeps us from being inundated by their gossip. That assumes, however, some minimum of discretion on their part. When their private behavior leaps out of the bedroom and presents itself for inspection, then judgment is obviously called for.

No hard and fast distinction can be drawn between the public and the private; after all, the same man is involved in both. The personality cannot be entirely compartmentalized. If an individual is deceptive, exploitive, callous, irresponsible, self-destructive, and egomaniacal in his sexual behavior, are we to suppose that in his public role, entirely different standards apply? Not bloody likely.

Knives Honed For Moynihan

When the news arrived that Pat Moynihan is definitely seeking the Democratic senatorial nomination in New York, my heart sank. Not because Pat would be a bad senator — on the contrary, he would be excellent. Not because he is more conservative in his outlook towards social experimentation than I am — though he is. The reaction was based on purely human grounds: Before the nominating process is over, Moynihan will probably be accused of sympathy for slavery, heartlessness towards the poor, and covert anti-Semitism. Like a number of people in politics, Moynihan — for all his ideological zeal — is singularly sensitive to ad hominem attacks.

Nobody enjoys having his character, convictions and morality assailed, but that is the stock-in-trade of New York reform Democratic politics. I know: I have survived a Thirty Years War with that crew of multivalent ideologues and I think — perhaps immodestly — that I have more notches on my guns than scars on my back. But it is not a career recommended to the inexperienced, and Moynihan has never actually been in a brawl. His political life (with one exception when in 1965 Robert Kennedy talked him into a disastrous campaign for president of the N.Y. City Council) has been in appointive politics. His experience with Chairman Kinsinger may have given him a little practice at knife fighting, but I fear that plunging him into the senatorial campaign will be the equivalent of diving into a school of piranha.

Take the charge of "racism" as a case in point. Moynihan, who seemingly collects honorary degrees the way I do stamps, was offered one by Ohio State University. However, it turned out there was disagreement among the trustees and a divided vote: 7-2 in favor. A black member, female, accused Pat of being both "racist" and "sexist." The basis for the latter charge was undefined, but anyone who knows his wife Liz would be extremely leery of pushing her around. "Racism" on the other hand has at least an insubstantial foundation: It is based on Moynihan's famous memo to President Nixon in which he used the phrase "benign neglect" in connection with racial issues.

Like President Eisenhower's farewell address, from which nothing has been extracted but the phrase "military-industrial complex," the remainder of Moynihan's memo has vanished from public memory. In fact, the point he made was that, all the inflated rhetoric on racial questions was counterproductive, that it raised impossible levels of expectation among the black community, and that the government ought to substitute action for verbiage. In short, he did not advocate "benign neglect" of the problems, but that people should keep their traps shut unless they had sensible, concrete proposals.

UAW Spurns An Old Friend

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers has spurned one of its oldest friends in the legislature, Rep. George Montgomery, to endorse his opponent in the August Democratic primary. Montgomery, a 20-year veteran of the House and chairman of its powerful Taxation Committee, represents the Fifth District, in Detroit's west side. Montgomery, a 62-year-old white, represents a district that is predominantly black. That was a campaign issue two years ago when an opponent charged the district was "black majority white rule." Montgomery won that election with 57 per cent of the vote. Last week, the union's black-controlled Wayne County political arm, the Community Action Program, endorsed one of Montgomery's black opponents for his house seat, James Matison. In spite of a letter of support from Detroit Mayor Coleman Young

Do You REMEMBER?

— 10 Years Ago —

Benton Harbor Elks will break ground at 3 p.m. Thursday for a new 144-acre golf course in Hagar township. The new site will replace the present Elks clubhouse at 208 Pipestone street, which is in the path of Benton Harbor's urban renewal project. The course is expected to be open for the summer of 1968. The new tract also will include a clubhouse and swimming pool.

— 25 Years Ago —

The twin cities' top softball attraction of the summer will unfold at Kiwanis field Sunday evening when the hand-picked all-star teams from the St. Joseph Recreation and the Twin City Industrial leagues battle for benefits before what is expected to be the largest crowd of the season. As added features of the diamond show, The Twin City Wildcats girls' team, sponsored by Superior Steel of Benton Harbor, will play an exhibition contest with a Sturgis, Mich., team.

— 30 Years Ago —

Lansing — A proposal that the state re-route trunk line M-11 through Benton Harbor and St. Joseph and participate in the cost of constructing a new bridge between the two cities, was laid before Governor Griesbeck and Highway Commissioner Frank Rogers by Representative Loomis, K. Preston, of St. Joseph, today. The state plans to route M-11 traffic by way of Court street in St. Joseph, which would entail the construction of a new bridge there. The city must shortly replace the so-called State street bridge and it would be cheaper for the city and the state to combine to install the State street structure and route M-11 traffic across it, thereby avoiding the necessity of building two bridges, according to Representative Preston.

BH School Board Hires New Instruction Chief

The Benton Harbor board of education last night hired Phillip Dean Sanders, 38, a Barrington, Ill., high school principal as deputy superintendent for instruction.

MSU GRAD: Carol Shubinski, daughter of Mrs. Carl Weckwerth, Watervliet, graduated with high honors and a bachelor of arts degree in elementary education from Michigan State university June 12. A 1972 graduate of Watervliet high school, she is the wife of Ray Shubinski, of St. Joseph, an MSU graduate student. Mrs. Shubinski is a member of Phi Kappa Phi honor society and chapter president of Kappa Delta Pi education honor society.

Sanders received a two-year contract, with the starting salary reported to be $27,900 a year. He replaces Edward Pappert, who resigned last summer, and will be on his new job July 1.

The board also approved the hiring of Paul C. Bergan as head high school football coach. He accepted resignations of John Eichenfeld, group director for personnel and labor, and Glenn Nienhuis, group director for business and finance. The Herald-Palladium earlier published separate stories on each man. Eichenfeld and Nienhuis have taken new jobs elsewhere.

Sanders most recently has been an area principal at Barrington consolidated high school, located 45 miles northwest of Chicago. The school has about 3,000 students and is part of the Barrington Community Unit school district.

Sanders expects to receive a doctoral degree this summer from Northwestern university. He received bachelor's and master's degrees from Eastern Illinois university. He moved to Barrington in 1968 as a biology teacher at the high school. He was promoted to assistant principal, class principal and finally, area principal. He left in 1975 to complete graduate work.

Sanders is an ordained deacon of the Presbyterian church. At Barrington, Sanders was active in Junior Achievement, the Barrington drug abuse committee and Barrington youth council.

Sanders, his wife and one child will move here shortly.

The board in other business: —Voted to advertise for bids for dairy and bakery requirements for the 1976-77 school year.

Authorized the superintendent to prepare payrolls and order supplies and services, up to 50 per cent of 1975-76 district budget. The 1976-77 budget will not be adopted by the end of the current fiscal year, June 30, because the state apparently will not have adopted its budget, which includes state aid to schools.

—Voted to expell Celestine Fuse, a 10th grade student for allegedly assaulting a bus driver on May 17, and Felinda Harris, an 11th grade student for allegedly assaulting another student on May 11.

—Scheduled its organizational meeting for 7 p.m. July 12, at Benton Harbor high school. Trustee Irene Fox last night swore into office Frank W. Cully, reelected and Arthur M. Crump, elected to the board at the annual school election June 14.

Congressman Esch Cancels Campaign Swing In Area

Congressman Marvin Esch was forced to cancel his scheduled campaign visit to the Twin Cities area Monday because he was called to appear at a hearing in Washington, a member of his staff announced. Esch, one of five Republicans seeking nomination for the U.S. Senate, was scheduled to appear at a Lakeshore Chamber of Commerce breakfast, a noon luncheon of the Twin Cities Rotary Club and an afternoon reception of the Twin Cities Chamber of Commerce. He also had been scheduled to tour the Appliances Bayers Credit Corporation offices and speak at a Royalltownship Republican picnic. No plans have been made for a substitute visit, Esch's aide said.

Shaune Mammima Memorial Scholarship Funds Invited

Donations to the Shaune Mammima Memorial Madrigal scholarship for Benton Harbor high school students in the vocal music program are now being accepted by the Farmers & Merchants National Bank at its Fairplain Plaza branch.

The scholarship is to be presented annually to honor the memory of Shaune Mammima. It is a two-week study course at Michigan State university. The 1976 winner was Gayle Cuthbert. A memorial plaque is in the vocal music room and lists award winners.

Funds for the scholarship were raised by memorials given to the family at the funeral of Miss Mammima earlier this year and by donations from friends and fellow workers of members of the family. The Benton Harbor high school choral program organization also participated in raising funds. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben J. Mammima, 216 Hampton road, Fairplain.

Scholarship donations should be addressed to: Shaune Mammima Memorial Madrigal scholarship, award, Farmers & Merchants National Bank, Fairplain Plaza, Benton Harbor, 49022.

Commission To Ask Governor For 'Quorum'

By MIKE WYNGARDEN
Staff Writer

Confronted with the continued absence of Benton Harbor Commissioner Helen Ford, the remaining commissioners will attempt to meet personally with Gov. William Milliken to ask him to appoint another member to establish a working quorum.

That was the decision during an hour-long discussion last night in which the remaining four commissioners — Arnold Bolin, Edmund Eaman, Charles Yarbrough and Alfred Williams — explored a variety of alternatives to get the commission back in action.

Following the discussion, the commission again adjourned for lack of a quorum because Mrs. Ford was absent. City Manager James Peoples, Jr., reported Mrs. Ford did not return a call he placed yesterday afternoon at the office of Berrien County Action, Inc. (BCA).

Mrs. Ford said in an interview yesterday with a South Bend television station that she would be attending a meeting in Kalamazoo at 5:30 p.m. and didn't know whether she could make the commission meeting. It was the sixth meeting Mrs. Ford has been absent from since the May 18 recall of Mayor Charles Joseph and three commissioners.

Other alternatives suggested last night included: waiting until the Aug. 3 election fills recalled-commissioner seats, acting without a quorum of five commissioners, and shutting the city down to get action.

After the discussion, Eaman noted that the commissioners have tried before, through State Sen. Charles Zellar's office, to persuade Gov. Milliken to make an appointment in the commission.

"We have to get somebody off dead center here," Eaman said. "We're getting closer and closer to an emergency situation. Somebody has to have the power to do something. They have to."

Bolin said the commissioners will attempt to persuade the governor that, because of Mrs. Ford's absence, the remaining commissioners do not have the "power to appoint" new commissioners. A state elections law says the governor may appoint another member in cases where the power to appoint does not exist. Bolin also noted that, under another section of the state law, the governor, under certain circumstances, may remove a city commissioner from office.

Several of the 30 citizens present at the meeting suggested that several busloads of citizens travel to Lansing to dramatize the city's plight — a suggestion that met with several commissioners' approval.

However, Williams, the only Clean Slate commissioner who was not recalled in the May 18 election, said the commission should wait until the Aug. 3 election to fill commissioner seats.

"The answer is going to have to come in August," Williams said. "We waited six months for the recall election to take place and the people who led the recall should have planned for the future. I think they should have read the charter before they recalled."

Commissioner Yarbrough charged Williams and other Clean Slate candidates were trying to prove "the city can't run without Mayor Joseph."

"We've got to start using some common sense here," Yarbrough said. "She (Mrs. Ford) knows we're looking for her. Out of decency, why doesn't she resign?" he asked.

Yarbrough suggested the commission act without a quorum of five commissioners in spite of the state attorney general's recent opinion that the commission could not legally act without five members.

"I say we keep going," Yarbrough said. "If we go to jail, we go to jail — at least somebody may listen to us then."

Yarbrough also suggested that the commissioners "shut the city down" to prompt action, but Bolin and Eaman dismissed the idea because "we would be punishing the wrong people."

Last night, commissioners also received a completed copy of a management study of the city by McManis Associates, a management and research consulting firm based in Washington D.C.

Preliminary findings of the firm were announced at the May 10 meeting of the city commission meeting by Mike Casey, a member of the firm. Casey said the firm recommended consolidation of the police and fire departments under a single public safety director, pay raises for the mayor and city commission and a better definition of the roles of mayor and city manager.

New Recall Move Misses Primary

A group attempting to recall Benton Harbor City Commissioners Arnold Bolin, Edmund Eaman and Charles Yarbrough did not file petitions in time to put the issue on the Aug. 3 primary ballot, according to Berrien County Clerk Forrest H. Kesterke.

Kesterke said it would be "mechanically impossible" to put the recall of the three commissioners on the Aug. 3 ballot because ballots for the election have already been ordered.

That means the Aug. 3 election in Benton Harbor will be limited to a decision on whether or not Commissioner Helen Ford will be recalled and the election of four people to fill commission seats vacated by an earlier recall vote.

Ten candidates filed by the June 8 deadline for the mayor and three commissioner seats. Petitions to recall Mrs. Ford were filed June 16 by the Benton Harbor recall committee.

Members of the "Justice Prevail" group trying to recall Bolin, Eaman and Yarbrough could not be reached for comment on their further plans for the recall drive.

Dorothy Johnson, of 1082 Jennings avenue and a member of the group, said earlier the group of some 100 citizens had hoped to get the issue on the Aug. 3 ballot.

Under a new state law which went into effect in April, petitions for recall of city officials must now go to the county clerk's office after verification by the city clerk's office. Benton Harbor Deputy City Clerk Barbara Talley said last night that the "Justice Prevail" group has not yet submitted petitions to the city clerk's office for verification.

STRAWBERRIES FOR PRESIDENT: Two aides to President Gerald Ford accept crate of southwestern Michigan strawberries on behalf of the President from Congressman Edward Hutchinson (left) of St. Joseph. Berries were sent by air from Benton Harbor Fruit market on June 14 and arrived in White House for dinner same night. Accepting the treat for the president are Presidential Counselor John Marsh (center) and Presidential Assistant for Legislative Affairs Max Friedersdorf (right). Arrangements for sending the berries were made by Alvin Braudo, Benton Harbor market manager.

BH Firm Must Not Move Assets

A temporary restraining order was issued yesterday in Berrien Circuit court prohibiting Monitor Sound Systems of Benton Harbor from moving any corporate assets out of Benton Harbor.

The order, issued by Judge William S. White, also forbids any spending by the company other than in the ordinary course of business.

The restraining order came on the heels of a suit filed last week by United Community Development Corp., which seeks payment of $1,500 allegedly due on loans made last year to Monitor. The suit claims Monitor's president, O.J. Patti, has threatened to move the firm's entire operation to the west coast and that more than 5,000 employed intercom units have already been shipped to a west coast warehouse. White noted the order will remain in effect until the suit is resolved or the order is lifted by the court.

United Community Development Corp., organized by Benton Harbor business people to act as a liaison between businesses and governmental agencies in grants for business growth, claims it loaned $25,000 to Monitor but has not yet been repaid.

The company, located at 59 Wall street, in January began production of intercom units, but was forced to halt in February. The firm was also charged with failing to pay wages to employees, but those claims have since been settled.

Public And Nonpublic

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan public and nonpublic school buildings must comply with the state's barrier-free design requirements to aid the physically handicapped, says Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley. "It is clear from the terms used that the legislature intended to include both public and nonpublic school buildings," under the Construction Code Act, which requires special design and construction features to help handicapped persons, Kelley said Monday. In addition, the state Department of Education must enforce the act as it pertains to schools, Kelley said in an opinion.

Bicentennial Fashion Show Thursday

TICKETS AVAILABLE: "Hemlines Thru History," a fashion show illustrating styles through the decades, will be held Thursday, June 24, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of St. Joseph high school. Sponsored by the Berrien County Bicentennial Pageant, Inc., the show will feature authentic apparel donated by women in Berrien county, include at left, Mrs. Edward (Nancy) Welch, wearing a brown velvet coat and fur collar stole, originally worn by Mrs. Edmund (Mary Elizabeth) Bryant from 1850 to 1860. The fur collar stole was worn by Mrs. Robert (Mary Elizabeth) Small's grandmother Sheldon. Mrs. Bryant was Mrs.

Small's great-grandmother. Mrs. Small has loaned both items for the show. Mrs. Donald (Judy) Bodjack, center, models a graduation dress worn by Mrs. John Hellmuth of Stevensville for graduation from Scholastica high school, Chicago, during the 1880s. Mrs. Hellmuth was the grandmother of Mrs. John (Betty) Valantiejus of New Buffalo who loaned the dress for the show. Mrs. Joseph (Valerie) Meimes, right, models a bridal gown worn by Louise Raschke June 12, 1907, for her marriage to Julius Radde. The dress was loaned by her daughter, Mrs. Erdman (Julietta) Nehring of St. Joseph. Other costumes will be provided by the Rogers company. Proceeds from the show will be used for the Bicentennial pageant July 21-24. Tickets for the show are $2 and may be obtained from the Berrien County Bicentennial Commission office, Benton Harbor; Adent's Bridal shop, Blake's, Inc., Doty's Chapeaux Boutique, The Hennes company and Ollie's, Inc., all of St. Joseph. Other participating stores are Schreiber Flower shop, Gillespie's, Lambrecht's, Hilltop Foods and Meskimens, all of St. Joseph; Hall of Cards and Books, Benton Harbor; Square Butcher Block and Stancik's Village Drug store, Stevensville. ## June Bride St. Paul's Episcopal church, St. Joseph, was the setting June 12 for the wedding of Miss Bonnie Louise Payne and Robert Albert Regalia.

The Rev. Robert F. Andrews, pastor of the church, and the Rev. Fr. George N. Ross of St. Joseph Catholic church, St. Joseph, performed the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Payne, 475 Montezuma road, Benton Harbor. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Regalia, San Francisco, Calif.

The bride wore a gown jersey and chiffon empire gown designed with a flowing train. A jersey pleated bandeau headpiece trimmed with a jersey rose held her fingertip veil and she carried phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

Sister of the bride, Mrs. William A. Nichols, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Katherine A. Jacob and Miss Susan Ann Regalia, sister of the groom.

Janet K. Payne and Katherine M. Nichols were flower girls and Donald W. Nichols was ringbearer.

Donald A. Payne, brother of the bride, served as best man. Ushers were William A. Nichols and Donald C. Regalia, brother of the groom.

The newlyweds were driven to a reception at Berrien Hills Country club, Benton Harbor, in a horse drawn carriage.

Following a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the couple is residing at 3312 Adelaide way, Belmont, Calif.

MRS. ROBERT REGALIA

Consumers And Fishermen Face Disappointments

When summertime rolls around, fishermen take up poles and bait and head for the favorite fishing spots, says Maryann Beckman, District Food Marketing Agent.

Other consumers look to fish centers for their catch and have had as many disappointments lately as some of the fishermen. Some of our favorite seafood items, like shrimp, lobster, tuna, cod and perch seem to be swimming right out of reach, both in price and supply.

Several factors are causing tight supplies and each problem adds a little more to the price.

Processing costs have hooked the fisherman just as they have other food processors. Fuel, materials and labor have dipped heavily into profits. For the smaller fisherman who can't keep up with those costs, it means the end of a career. And as their children survey the job market, they often look to less strenuous and more predictable job choices. Thus, fewer fishermen must supply an increasing market demand.

An ever increasing population requires more food. If production doesn't increase, too, then supplies dwindle and prices rise. Because the international fishing boundary dispute hasn't been settled, foreign fleets fish our territory and reduce United States supplies also.

We must import over 60 per cent of our seafood, and other countries are also competing for the same world-wide supplies. In fact, some need more than we do. For example, Japan's per capita consumption is about 90 pounds compared with our 12 pounds. It's a bit like a country auction, where the product goes to the highest bidder and the one that can pay the price.

Countries who once relied on seafood as a major source of income are now looking at other resources, such as oil. And, of course, selling oil is more profitable than selling fish. Many of these countries have also been very busy fighting wars and could not spend time on the seas. All these factors have reduced the world output available, while demand continues to grow.

What is ahead for the fish and seafood industry? Fish farming is one answer. Scientists are now raising salmon, trout, catfish, lobster and oysters under controlled conditions very successfully. Michigan is also now studying the potential of fish farming for local species.

Fishermen catch many species but consider them junk fish, since there is little or no demand for them, partly due to our tendency to stay with traditional species. The MSU Food Science department, in cooperation with the University of Wisconsin and University of Minnesota, has completed part of a two-year project aimed at utilization of suckers (freshwater mullet), a local species, for example. They are now studying the seasonal variations in composition, storage stability, development of new products, processing variables and effects of pesticide residues. Ocean pout, a little used fish now mostly tossed overboard by domestic fishermen, may provide a substantial new income to the North Atlantic fishing industry also. Efforts of many scientists are now underway to develop a market for the firm, milk-white fillets of this fish, which now bring only a trifling sum as an industrial product.

Taste panels have been conducted with consumers who could not distinguish between the taste of pout and that of flounder. Many other fish that we are unfamiliar with soon may be appearing at local fish counters, too, such as dogfish, red crab, squid, Langostino and fluke.

Remember, too, only a minor portion of our oceans are now being fished. There are many unknown species swimming in untapped waters which could ease the supply situation and give us some tasty fish that are as good or better than past favorites.

Florida Picnic Sunday

The annual Michigan Florida picnic will be held Sunday, June 27, beginning at 1 p.m. at the Hagar township hall, Riverside. Area residents and Michigan residents who vacation in Florida for a portion or all winter are invited.

There will be a cooperative picnic and entertainment.

Serving on the committee in charge of dinner arrangements are Mr. and Mrs. Roger Carter, Coloma, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schner.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Mr. and Mrs. Carter.

Dr. Tonnelier, Dentist, in office, 84 W. Main, B.H., beginning Mon., June 21. 10 to 12 a.m.

Reunion July 10

The 1936 graduating class of Benton Harbor high school will hold a 40-year reunion Saturday, July 10, at the Benton Harbor Holiday Inn.

Reservations are asked by June 30 and can be made with Mrs. Joseph (Marjorie) Stock, Clermont of Benton Harbor.

The snail hour will be at 6 p.m. and dinner is planned at 8 p.m. Entertainment will follow the dinner.

ATTENTION! Future Brides

Brides-to-be planning engagement announcements and wedding stories in this newspaper are asked to observe the following rules:

Engagement and wedding forms are available in the women's department at The Herald-Palladium offices in Benton Harbor or St. Joseph. The pertinent information should be typed or plainly printed in filling out these forms to prevent errors.

Wedding forms should be picked up at least two weeks and turned in one week before the wedding is to take place.

When wedding information is sent within two months of the engagement announcement date, only ONE picture will be run. The bride-to-be may have her choice.

Use proper names — not nicknames. In wedding information, use husband's names for married attendants.

Only pictures of the bride in her wedding dress will be used. Formal glossy black and white portraits are preferred.

Engagement and wedding pictures are usually available at this newspaper office after publication for a short time.

If you feel your feet are too big, avoid platform heels, wedges or very high or low heels. Sling-backs work well by breaking the long line of the foot.

R SUMMER IS HARD ON YOUR EYES

Outdoor living, swimming in chlorinated pools and salt water, glaring sun, windblown dust, allergies and other natural irritants make summertime really hard on your eyes. It is wise to have on hand a bottle of eye drops for use when any of these problems arise. We carry a complete stock as well as many other eye care products.

Here are a few helpful hints to make applying eye drops simple:

1. Tilt head back and close eyes.
2. Apply one or two drops in the inner corners of each eye.
3. Open lids and let the drops flow naturally into the eyes.

'W' Makes The Difference

Seven representatives of the St. Joseph-Benton Harbor YWCA are among the 2,000 women attending the Young Women's Christian Association of the USA's 27th national convention at the University of Notre Dame.

The headline on the original announcement of the convention published June 18 in this newspaper incorrectly stated the convention would be of the YMCA.

The national slogan of the YWCA of the USA is the "W Makes the Difference."

Local delegates are Mrs. John (Carol) Ashworth, local coordinator, and Mrs. Richard (Rene) Laney.

Convention theme is "Freedom to Be... Power to Move."

During the convention, the YWCA will establish its program for action for the 1976-79 triennium.

Delegates will act on recommendations from the national board which grew out of crucial issues as seen by member associations across the United States.

On the agenda for the triennial meeting is the recommendation the YWCA reaffirm its position as an autonomous women's movement, the role it has occupied since 1863.

Pair Married In South Haven

SOUTH HAVEN — Miss Laurie Ann Selzer and Charles Phillip Palanca were married June 11 at St. Basil Catholic church, South Haven.

The Rev. Fr. James Barretti and the Rev. Raymond Barletti of the First English Lutheran church, South Haven, performed the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Selzer, 909 Ravinia drive, South Haven. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Palanca, 35 Apache Court, South Haven.

The bride wore a daron polyester organza gown trimmed with cotton Venice lace and designed with a panel of lace on the skirt front and a detachable chapel train. A lace cap held her fingertip lace edged veil and she carried blue tipped carnations, sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Miss Linda Selzer, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Thomas Thaler and Miss Mary Palanca, Miss Lisa Palanca and Miss Abby Palanca, sisters of the groom.

Jennifer Smith was flower girl.

Serving as his brother's best man was Perry Palanca. Ushers were Richard and Ronald Selzer, brothers of the bride, Alfio Palanca, Terry Davis, Patrick Nook and Michael Bucci.

A reception was held at Fiedelman's Mai Kai Lounge, South Haven.

Summer Theatre Season Underway

BARN THEATRE

The musical, "1776," the stirring recreation of the momentous days between May 8 and July 4, when the second Continental Congress created and signed the Declaration of Independence, opens tonight at the Barn Theatre at Augusta.

The musical will be presented through Sunday, July 4.

Curtain times are 8:30 p.m. Tuesday through Friday; 7 and 9:45 p.m. Saturday and 5 p.m. Sunday.

There will be two performances July 4 at 5 and 8:30 p.m. and a fireworks display is also planned.

The show has won both the Tony and New York Drama Critics' Award in its initial Broadway run in 1968-69.

The show is the original concept of composer/lyricist Sherman Edwards who became fascinated with the seemingly "impossible" idea of doing a musical based on the framing of the Declaration of Independence. It took Edwards over five years to create the music and lyrics, and months beyond that to find a producer who would risk doing a show on such a commercially improbable idea.

Angelo Mango will portray John Adams, Louis Girard will be Benjamin Franklin, and Robin Haynes will be Thomas Jefferson.

Wayne Lamb is the director. Michael Rono is musical director and conductor and Kevin McGuire is in charge of costumes. Scenery is by Dusty Reeds and includes a special and historically accurate recreation of the signatures on the Declaration of Independence on a full stage curtain.

The presentation of "1776" will be the second time it has been produced at the Barn. It was originally presented in 1972.

The next production at the Barn will be "The Ritz," which will open July 4.

SISTER LAKES

Art Nemitz, producer of Sister Lakes Playhouse, Sister Lakes, announces the opening production of the Playhouse's 24th season will be the British farce, comedy, "Who Goes Bure?"

The most successful production of the Playhouse's 1975 season, "Who Goes Bure?", will play for two weeks on its return engagement.

The show opens Wednesday, June 23, and plays through June 27 and again June 30 through July 4. Curtain times are 8:30 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday and 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

The Playhouse offers a reserved seat policy and the box office is open from 1 to 10 p.m. each day.

The cast for the opening production includes Glenn Barker, Tom Nolan, Angie Beardon, Toysa True, John F. Scott, Ron Jacoby, Clairo Jengemann Jacoby, Flo Peterson, Stanley Sparks and Rick Mason. Art Nemitz is the director.

The management has restricted the audience to "Adults Only" for this production.

The play is set at the Sunny Vale Health club, a health resort in the English countryside. The owner finds running the resort a hazardous undertaking especially when he has signed away the deeds of the house for a gambling debt. Complicating matters is the desertion of the staff, except for one half-witted and hysterical maid, an erring, pompous brother, his suspicious wife, a tennis-player who thinks she is in a midlist colony, her husband, and a quick-change artist.

DUNES THEATRE

Dunes Summer Theatre at Michiana, near Michigan City, Ind., will open its 1976 summer season with a production of "The Contrast," Wednesday, June 23.

The musical comedy will be presented through June 26 and again June 30 through July 2. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. (CDST). All seats must be reserved in advance.

The play is an adaptation of the first play written and produced in America. The 1787 spoof on sex, manners, masculinity-femininity, loyalty and social graces is being presented by the Dunes Foundation as its Bicentennial Heritage '76 production.

The play contrasts the rough-and-ready 18th century Americans with their countrymen who retained continental sophistication. Although presented in the elaborate costuming and stylistically sparse staging of the earlier period, the production has been updated in dialogue and musical score to appeal to modern audiences.

Paul Glanz is cast as Dimple, the "English" top, attended by his proper "English" servant Jessamy, portrayed by Joe Sadowski. They are contrasted with the rowdy, democratic Americans. Col. Munly and his servant, Johnathan, played by Basil Cross and Richard Richter. Five other actors from the Michiana area complete the cast.

Royall Tyler, who was once engaged to John Adams' daughter, Abigail, wrote the original play, and the musical adaptation was written by Anton Stimate. Seventeen musical numbers with music by Don Pippin and lyrics by Steven Brown, provide a variety of American rhythms, from square-dance tunes to rock and roll.

Conrad Blasco is the director. Larry Rapchak is musical director and Sally Montgomery is choreographer.

Season tickets are available from the Brewery Gallery and Books, 600 East 9th street, or the Michigan City, or the box office. Group rates are available.

The Dunes Youth theatre will present three Bicentennial performances of "Yankee Doodle," June 26 at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., and June 27 at 7:30 p.m.

HOPE THEATRE

The Hope Summer Repertory Theatre will begin its fifth season July 9.

The season will run through Sept. 4 and will feature in repertory two musicals, a comedy and a drama. The repertory format means that once all four shows in the season open, they will alternate nightly, Monday through Saturday.

The season will open with the robust American musical, "Fiddler on the Roof." The zesty American comedy, "Arsenic and Old Lace," joins the repertory July 16. Opening July 30, will be the second American musical, "Dames at Sea," and completing the season will be John Steinbeck's classic drama, "Of Mice and Men," opening Aug. 11.

Those wishing further information, season coupons, reservations, group rates and a calendar of performances may write: Hope Summer Repertory Theatre, Holland, #423.

Curtain will be at 8:30 p.m. each evening.

The Children's Performance Troupe will perform a musical version of "Tom Sawyer."

Among the 52-member company are 13 student apprentices who will be studying theatre performance techniques as well as acting in productions.

All performances will be in the air-conditioned DeWitt Cultural Center on the campus of Hope college, Holland.

Plan Print Exhibit At LMC

Lake Michigan college will sponsor an exhibit and sale of 600 original prints from the Ferdinand Roten Galleries collection Monday, June 28.

The exhibit will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the LMC library at the Napier avenue campus, Benton Harbor. Artists to be featured in the exhibition will include Picasso, Goya, Bonor and Hogarth and many of today's American artists.

The exhibit will be open to the public free of charge, according to William Hessel, LMC dean of libraries. Dean Hessel says, "The exhibition is a wonderful opportunity for area residents to obtain a first-hand acquaintance with the original art work of the old masters as well as the work of famous contemporary artists."

A knowledgeable Roten representative will be present at the exhibition to answer questions about the prints and the artists and to discuss other prints not in this collection but which may be obtained from the gallery in Baltimore.

An authority of graphics of all types, Roten holds exhibitions and sales at major museums, universities, colleges, art galleries and arts centers throughout the United States and Canada.

The informal displaying of the collection allows visitors to examine at close range the various graphic techniques of different artists.

Established in 1932, Roten Galleries has one of the largest collections of graphic art in the country. The firm operates its main gallery at 123 Mulberry street, Baltimore, Md.

Exchange Nuptial Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bond are residing at 188 Hawthorne, St. Joseph, following their marriage June 18 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Gene Tubor, 150 Elm Terrace, Benton Harbor.

The bride, the former Mrs. Virginia Clark, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Sparks, 315 Kingsley, St. Joseph. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Bond, 1881 Hawthorne.

The bride wore an ivory double knit halter dress with a sheer orange and yellow flowered cape.

Attending the bridal couple were Mrs. Gene Tubor and Michael Bond, son of the groom.

A reception was held at the Benton Harbor FOP Lodge. The bride is a graduate of Benton Harbor high school and is employed as a waitress at Babe's Lounge, Benton Harbor. Her husband is a graduate of St. Joseph high school and attended Michigan State university. He is employed as a policeman by the Eau Claire Police department and the security department of Sears, Roebuck and Company, Benton Harbor.

Announce Films

Dune buggies and a witch will be the topics of the free children's films to be shown Friday, June 25, at 4 p.m. at the Benton Harbor public library.

"Catch the Joy" is a film on all kinds of dune buggies and the activities surrounding them. "Winter of the Witch" is the story of a boy and his mother who meet a "not so wicked" witch and learn her recipe for "happiness pancakes."

Children ages 6-14 may still sign up for the summer reading program.

The children's room has received new games that youngsters may play while at the library. They are "The Afro-American History Mystery Game," volumes I and II and "The Black Experience American History Game."

The library is open from 9 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday; from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Friday; and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday.

An American Legend By Lenox

Some 200 years ago, there was a controversy over the choice of a bird for the national symbol. Turkey? Or eagle? Legend has it that someone suggested a compromise: a bird with a turkey's head and eagle's body.

Lenox designers have interpreted the turkey-eagle and 1776 in a hand-pressed seal on cocktail glasses of hand-blown lead crystal. Set of four double on-the-rocks or highballs, handsomely gift-boxed.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Beating Makes Him An Angel

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from the man who didn't believe some women actually beat up their husbands hit very close to home. It also gives me an opportunity to get something off my chest. I've never mentioned it to a soul. Please, Ann, no name or city must appear with this letter.

My sister confided in me several months ago that her husband INSISTS that she hit him with a belt when he does something that displeases her. She said at first she was shocked and refused to do it, but he begged her until she agreed. When she hits him he often says, "Harley, I deserve it!" — or "Don't stop. I need more."

This has been going on for five years. She beats him about every two or three months. Afterwards, she says he is very loving and sweet and behaves like an angel for several weeks. To all the world they appear to be an ideal couple. What do you make of it? — Strictly Entre Nous

Dear Ann: The guy is sick. Like very. His mother probably beat him with a belt when he was growing up and periodically he has an uncontrollable urge to go back to those days. There are more people like that around than you think. Usually it's the wife who wants to be beaten. It's interesting that severely neurotic people seem to marry partners willing to satisfy the neurotic need.

Success

Dear Ann Landers: I found a definition for success in a library book at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center about 20 years ago. I have recopied it in my wallet and have worn out several. Perhaps you would like to share it with your readers. No one seems to know who wrote it. "To laugh often and love much; to win the respect of intelligent persons and the affection of children; to earn the approbation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty; to find the best in others; to give of one's self; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition; to have played and laughed with enthusiasm and sung with exultation; to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived — this is to have succeeded." — A Devoted Reader

Dear Reader: I printed that beautiful definition of success in my column several years ago but it is well worth repeating. Thank you for sending it along.

Soul Kissing

Dear Ann Landers: Is there anything wrong with "soul kissing"? I'm sure you know what I mean. Older people call it French kissing. My boyfriend says it's a health hazard. I say it isn't. We are both exposed to a lot of people during the day but we usually have a couple of drinks before we engage in soul kissing. I contend that the alcohol is enough to kill any germs that might be in a person's mouth. I became very upset when he begins to lecture me about how unsanitary my kisses are. Please print this letter and your answer and I sure hope you are on my side. — Sarasota Kisses

Dear Sarasota: Soul kissing is no more of a health hazard than brother-sister kissing, unless one of the parties has an infectious disease. Heavy petting after a few drinks could lead to another problem. Pregnancy.

Going to a wedding? Giving one? Or standing up in one? Even if you're already married Ann Landers' completely new "The Bride's Guide" will answer questions about today's weddings. For a copy, send a dollar bill, plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (24 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Golden-Oldie Fashion Crazes

By RICHARD L. WORSNOP
NEW YORK — Penny loafers? Saddle shoes? White bucks? Madras shorts? Shirtwaist dresses? None of these golden-oldie fashion crazes is sweeping the country, but don't bet that one or more of them won't, and relatively soon.

The ever-changing world of fashion appears to be heading into yet another phase. The scruffy, unkempt look of the late sixties is on the way out. The neat, buttoned-down look of the fifties and pre-Vietnam sixties is finding favor again.

Department stores sales provide evidence of the new trend. "It's going back to the classics," said Mary Hamilton of Macy's in San Francisco. "We are ordering three-piece suits with little vests for the boys. They want Argyle socks and sweaters, too, and the girls want dresses again, all lace and long, or else black and sexy."

The crew cut also is staging a comeback, at least in New York City. "It was an honest thing," said fashion designer Jesper Nyboe, explaining why he had decided to have his pony tail shorted off. "I wanted to be able to see the shape of my head. I was hiding behind all that hair."

Other straws in the fashion wind: The return of the vest has led to rising demand for pocket watches, adorned with fobs or fancy chains. According to The Wall Street Journal, about two million pocket watches were sold in the United States last year, a 40 per cent increase over 1974, and a further 40 per cent increase is expected this year. And students and other young adults are rediscovering bedroom dancing. At Yale, about 30 students have signed up for twice-weekly fox trot lessons.

The return to what might be considered normalcy in fashion cannot be dismissed as just another outburst of nostalgia. For it has always been true, as the Japanese proverb says, that "What has been the fashion once will come into fashion again." Author James Laver went so far as to formulate a law governing shifting tastes in fashion: "The same dress is in vogue 10 years before its time, chic in its time, dowdy three years after its time, hideous 20 years after its time, amusing 30 years after its time, romantic a hundred years after its time and beautiful 150 years after its time."

It has been argued also that abrupt changes in economic and/or social conditions soon find expression in clothing fashions. Great wars ordinarily create a vogue for simple, even proletarian styles; this was the case after the French, Russian and Chinese Communist revolutions, and World War I. During the peak years of the Vietnam War, moreover, virtually every young person in the country seemed to have adopted jeans and T-shirts as their basic items of apparel.

The emerging fashions will not be slavish imitations of those of 20 or 30 years ago. Designers look to the past for inspiration, but they are always careful to work variations on their familiar themes. Aside from hemline lengths, the short skirts of the 1960's had little in common with those of the 1920's. And the full, pleated trousers now worn by men are cut differently than the similar style of the thirties and forties.

It is to be hoped that some fashions are revival-proof. Does anyone really yearn for gray flannel suits and narrow knit neckties? Or for ballerina slippers and flared skirts with crinolines? Let them rest in peace, along with the Nehru suit and the Edsel

My first sectional win was in Shreveport. My partner, Phil Briggs, was a very good player, who quit tournament bridge completely due to business pressures.

I opened the queen of diamonds against South's three trump contract and continued the suit after South ducked. He won the second diamond and led a spade. I put up my queen and was allowed to hold the trick. Later on South led a spade, finessed dummy's 10 and wound up with no spade tricks at all.

I was mighty proud of my play and it wasn't until some time later that Phil deflated me by pointing out that South could

SURGERY TO REMOVE FLABBY SKIN

I lost 45 pounds in the last year. Now I am left with an enormous amount of loose, flabby tissue. Can this be removed by an operation? Is it a dangerous operation? — Mrs. G.F., N.C. Dear Mrs. F.:

With such a considerable loss of weight, it is understandable that the muscular and skin structure can be distorted. It is rare, even with exercise, for the muscles and the body tissue to return to their former state of firmness.

Many surgeons now are able to remove such excess flabbiness of the skin around the abdomen, buttocks and thighs. The results can be most gratifying. These operations, performed by general surgeons and plastic surgeons, leave very slight scars.

The operation is not a dangerous one. Yet, the same rules apply to such surgery as to all other plastic surgery. A complete physical examination and coordination between the general physician and the surgeon are essential before such a procedure should be undertaken.

I was in perfect health until I started to take water pills for reducing. Then I became sick. I learned that my potassium had fallen. Is this usual after taking water pills? — Miss A.K., Mich.

Dear Miss K.:

I must assure that you, like many other people, take water pills without consulting a doctor.

Sometimes these pills are "traded" among friends and are taken without an understanding of their potential risks.

Doctors who prescribe diuretics (water pills) are aware that a possible loss of potassium may occur and are on the lookout for the symptoms associated with it. Repeated blood tests are done to insure that there is no excess fall of potassium in the blood.

Hypokalemia, or diminished levels of potassium in the blood, can also be associated with other illnesses. Loss of fluid by vomiting and diarrhea can produce this.

There are ways to counterbalance the low potassium: Bananas, molasses, orange juice and wheat germ are high in potassium. These, in conjunction with potassium chloride, can increase the potassium level in the blood and eradicate the symptoms associated with hypokalemia.

Diuretics are useful drugs, but they must not be taken by those uninformed of their possible dangers.

DETROIT (AP) — Dave Johnson, who plans to retire July 1 as president of Teamsters Local 299, refused Monday to support a group of unionists urging the recall of recently re-elected International President Frank E. Fitzsimmons.

"Fitzsimmons was duly elected by the convention last week, and I will support him all the way down the line," said Johnson, an ally of missing former Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

However, Johnson said he was not confident about the chances of Fitzsimmons' son, Richard, succeeding him as head of the 18,000-member local.

"The rank and file do not want him," he said at a news conference while a group of Teamsters in the background cheered his remarks.

Bill Extends Instant Lottery

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan residents will be able to scratch away on those instant lottery tickets for another four years under a bill headed for Gov. William Milliken's desk.

Monday night, the state Senate approved, on a vote of 24-2, a bill extending the lottery for four additional years. Unless the bill is signed, the lottery would expire July 1.

The legislature included the expiration date when it originally approved a state lottery, so it could be allowed to die if it proved unsuccessful. The new bill offers a tentative expiration date of July 1, 1980.

The Senate also approved Monday night a packet of minor legislation while the House gave final passage to a bill cracking down on prison assaults.

The Senate rejected a bill exempting chiropractors, optometrists and court stenographers from jury duty. With several lawmakers arguing too many people already are exempt from serving on juries, the bill went down to a 14-13 defeat, seven votes short of the 20 needed for passage.

However, the chamber agreed to reconsider its action, delaying a second vote on the matter until at least June 29.

In other action, the Senate: —Passed, 25-4, and sent to the House a bill which would include all Michigan school laws in one mammoth statute. The measure does little to change the state's school laws but pulls various laws together, updates antiquated language, drops unneeded provisions, wipes out conflicts and, in general, modernizes and streamlines the law.

—Passed, 21-8, and returned to the House a bill legalizing "millionaire parties" used by some organizations to raise money for charitable purposes. The millionaire party is a casino game of chance played with imitation money and is used by churches and other charitable organizations to raise funds. The games are prohibited by local ordinances in some areas and are not sanctioned by state law.

The House, meanwhile, gave final approval to a bill which would make it a felony for an inmate to assault a prison employee. Currently, a prison assault is a misdemeanor, and the bill's supporters claim corrections officers are not adequately protected.

The bill is a companion to a measure, passed last week, which requires that any prisoner convicted of a felony while in prison or during escape serve the resulting sentence only after his original sentence has expired.

Mother To Get Viet Boy

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — A Vietnamese boy was ordered returned to his natural mother Monday, ending a custody battle and taking the child from his foster parents.

Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Richard D. Kuhn told Barbara and David Pederson of Royal Oak to surrender the boy, 5-year-old Duong Que Tuan, by Friday. However, the Pedersons' attorney, James Elman, said he would seek a delay and appeal the order.

Ruling Called Setback For Land-Use Planning

By W. DALE NELSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court's ruling that a community can require a citizen's referendum on all proposed zoning changes could be a severe setback to land use planning, according to spokesmen for real estate developers and the construction industry.

In a 6 to 3 decision Monday, the court upheld an Eastlake, Ohio, ordinance assuring community control over residential growth by requiring a 55 per cent majority at the polls before any change in the permitted use of a piece of land could go into effect.

Developers said the added step of clearing a public referendum to win a zoning change violated a property holder's right to due process of law. The court disagreed.

"A referendum cannot ... be characterized as a delegation of power," Chief Justice Warren Burger said for the court. "Under our constitutional assumptions, all power derives from the people, who can delegate it to representative instruments which they create."

Duane Searles, associate counsel of the National Association of Home Builders, predicted that in the approximately 30 states in which voters have the power of referendum "we may see many communities requiring that rezoning be submitted to a referendum vote."

"The decision has the potential of destroying the land use planning and comprehensive zoning process," he said.

In Chicago, R. Martin Smith, an attorney representing builders and planners who filed a brief opposing the Eastlake ordinance, said the referendum approach was "antithetical to the idea of comprehensive planning."

He declined to comment on the details of the court's decision until he had read it.

In other actions, the court: —Voted 5 to 4 to uphold a Maryland law making annual grants of state money to private colleges, including those with church connections, to be spent for nonsectarian purposes.

The court indicated that the "impressible age" of younger children increased the dangers of religious indoctrination at precollege educational levels.

—Agreed to review a federal court decision striking down a New Hampshire law under which an auto owner was jailed for putting tape over the state motto, "Live Free or Die," on his license plates.

Police Keep Protesters In Line

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Police reported most black areas of South Africa calm today but said there were sporadic outbreaks of arson in the large Mamelodi township outside Pretoria.

Police reported that a medical clinic and a shop were set afire by thugs. They said there was no shooting.

Police Minister James Kruger told Parliament Monday night that the official death toll in the black uprising that began last Wednesday was 140 dead and 1,128 injured. Government and news reports indicated all but two of the dead and 10 of the injured were black.

Inadequate Welding May Delay Pipeline

By JOHN LENGEL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Discoveries of inadequate welding on the Alaska pipeline could open the project to a fresh round of court suits if the pipeline builder asks the government to accept a new inspection technique, according to a key federal official.

Alaska, the consortium formed to build the 800-mile pipeline, released a survey last May showing that 3,955 welds joining 80-foot sections of pipe were either improperly done, or were approved in an inspection using phony X rays.

Alaska told a hearing Monday of the House energy and power subcommittee that of an estimated 2,000 welds remaining to be fixed, 816 were not easily accessible for regular or inspection.

Environmental groups delayed the start of the pipeline project with a series of successful suits until Congress passed a law banning further suits in return for mandating environmental safeguards and such conditions as pipeline inspection and construction quality standards.

Retired Army Gen. Andrew Rollins, chief federal inspector in Alaska, said the pipeline was 25 per cent complete before the final details of the project's quality control program were approved by the government.

The line is now 62 per cent complete, according to Alaska. It is scheduled to be running at full capacity by November 1977, prior to the United States with 10 per cent of its daily crude oil needs.

Austin Asks Audit To Silence Critics

DETROIT (AP) — Secretary of State Richard L. Austin said Monday he will undergo an audit in an attempt to end questions about campaign contributions from branch managers he appoints.

Austin, the leading Democratic candidate for the party's Senate nomination, said he will ask the Internal Revenue Service, the Michigan Revenue Department and the Michigan Fair Campaign Practices Commission to audit personal and related funds and to investigate whether he used coercion to get contributions.

Austin's move was a reaction to questions from several fronts. Campaign opponent James Elmsman charged Austin forced branch managers to contribute to his campaign. Stories in the Flint Journal said he coerced branch managers to contribute. The Detroit Free Press asked to see financial records of branch managers.

None of those questioning Austin said he did anything illegal.

Austin denied any coercion and claimed he is being subjected to "politically inspired harassment."

Despite Austin's requests, there is some question whether the agencies can make the investigations.

Austin has said no federal tax returns were filed on political funds to which branch managers contributed, and spokesmen for the IRS and Michigan Treasury Department said their agencies could not audit the political funds without returns.

A member of the Michigan Fair Campaign Practices Commission said the 11-member body in the past has investigated only complaints concerning unfair practices such as false advertising or racial or religious slurs. He said he did not know if Austin's request falls within the commission's "limited jurisdiction," and said even if it did, the agency has "no staff, no budget, not even postage" to conduct an investigation.

Austin appoints branch managers to 35 offices in the state that provide a variety of services, such as selling license plates, transferring titles and issuing drivers' licenses. The managers are independent contractors who are paid a fee for each transaction.

Austin has collected at least $30,000 from branch managers since April for his Senate campaign, according to records.

Rule Changes May Block Health Code

By SUSAN AGER
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Proposed changes in the way health professionals are regulated may be a major hurdle in getting a new 441-page state health code passed in the legislature.

At a public hearing Monday before the Senate and House public health committees, representatives of several groups challenged new regulatory rules included in the proposal.

Other groups like the Michigan State Medical Society, dentists, and optometrists opposed the creation of a recommended Health Occupations Council that, under the new code, would have a consumer majority and wield certain powers over the current independent licensing boards.

The code updates and streamlines Michigan health law, and is the first major revision in Michigan history. A panel of 22 people worked nearly 18 months to write the proposal, which a spokesman for Gov. William Milliken said Monday proposes "major reforms of our public health care delivery system."

But Medical Society representative Bruce Ambrose also told the committees the code may be unconstitutional by including new rules on regulation. The Michigan Constitution prohibits a law from including more than one subject or topic, he said, and may affect the proposed code which deals primarily with public health.

But code supporters said that criticism is just a "red herring" being used by the doctors who fear that their self-regulating power may be shaved away by the Health Occupations Council. Michigan law prohibits consumer majorities on any professional licensing boards.

Both Sen. John Otterbacher and Rep. Raymond Hood, chairmen of Senate and House committees on public health, agreed Monday that disagreements about regulations of dozens of health groups would have to be hammered out before the bill could pass.

And the special interests involved could hinder plans to get the bill passed this year, they said. Milliken has urged passage this year.

Holding Delegates Their Next Big Job

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Now that Ford and Reagan leaders in Michigan have selected their delegates for the national convention, the next job is to hold on to them.

With President Ford and former California Gov. Ronald Reagan still neck-and-neck with all but a handful of national delegates chosen, each side is beginning to eye the other's supporters.

Carefully planned "raids" into the opponent's forces could yield what might be crucial votes.

Leaders of the Ford and Reagan factions in Michigan say that so far there have been no raids on the other camp. But neither side rules it out as the convention approaches, especially if the race stays close.

After the weekend's caucuses, Ford emerged with 1,005 delegates—only 125 short of the 1,130 needed for the nomination in Kansas City this August. But Reagan continued to narrow the gap, totaling 882 delegates, only 73 behind.

Only 157 delegates remain to be chosen, and there are 164 uncommitted.

Those uncommitted delegates will get the brunt of the persuasive powers of both Ford and Reagan, but in a close race they'll be looking toward sympathizers in the other's camp, too.

Michigan law, however, binds all committed delegates to their candidates for the first two ballots at the convention. And there are no uncommitted Republican delegates for wooing.

Only if the battle goes beyond two ballots—which many believe unlikely—would Michigan GOP delegates be free to switch sides. Should that happen, the fight will be fierce, and it is nothing either side can leave until the last minute.

Jerry Roer executive secretary of the state party and a Ford man, said both sides will be analyzing lists of their opponent's delegation to try and spot "weak" delegates—persons who could be open to persuasion.

Leaders of both factions say they haven't noticed any activity yet, but consider it standard operating procedure in an election year.

"We may develop a strategy, depending on how things go," said Peter Fletcher, state Ford campaign manager. "We may not be out campaigning. We have to hold our own troops in line, too, keeping them everything is O.K."

State Sen. John Welborn of Kalamazoo, chairman of the Reagan delegation, said Reagan's national campaign leaders have asked him to contact uncommitted delegates in other states. And he said he expected some lobbying between the two Michigan factions in search of extra votes should a third ballot roll around.

The Reagan forces in Michigan may have a tougher time finding off advances from the other side than Ford's contingent.

As Welborn pointed out, they are the minority group from the President's home state.

GOP Likely To Tiptoe On Platform Issues

By R. GREGORY NOKES
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Like the Democrats, the Republican party may draft a platform for the 1976 campaign that walks softly on the big issues. With both President Ford and Ronald Reagan agreeing on most issues, one party official said that if there are any significant disputes, they likely would arise in the foreign policy area.

But a key objective in platform committee debates probably will be to avoid controversy in an effort to unite the Grand Old Party going into the full presidential campaign. The Democrats drafted a unity platform last week, and Gov. Robert Ray of Iowa, chairman of the temporary Republican platform committee, told reporters Monday that unity may be a good goal for the Republicans, too.

"We will start from the premise that the platform should be short, concise, but with enough detail to have meaning," he said. Ray said both Ford and Reagan have said they will cooperate in drafting a platform to "avoid floor fights."

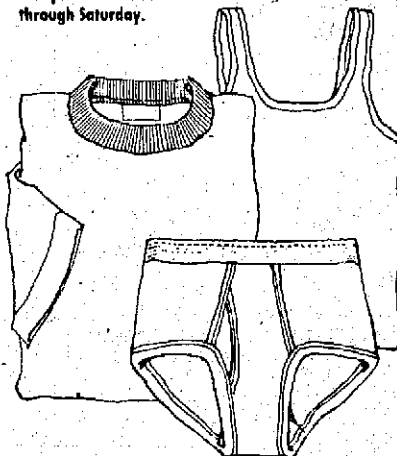

He said he thinks both men agree on most of the issues that the platform will address and that the "few items of disagreement," if any, would be in the area of international affairs.

Ray said potentially divisive issues such as abortion, busing and amnesty also will be considered by the platform committee. "They are legitimate questions before the platform committee, but I can't tell you at this time whether they will be in the platform or not," he said.

Escapee Must Have His Day In Court

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A Southern Michigan Prison inmate must have his "day in court" before losing good time because of an escape, the state appeals court ruled.

The court Monday ordered the Michigan Corrections Commission, Corrections Director Perry Johnson, and prison Warden Charles Egeler to hold a proper hearing into why Sidney Pfefferle should lose two years of good time.

Good time is time taken off an inmate's sentence in return for good behavior.

According to court records, Pfefferle, sentenced in 1968 to 15-to-30 years for second-degree murder, escaped from a trustee detail in August 1974, but voluntarily surrendered to the State Police two weeks later.

He indicated he escaped to avoid homosexual harassment by a prison staff member and also because he was frustrated after his requests for special parole were denied, court record showed.

The court said the proper procedures were not followed in revoking Pfefferle's good time, adding that he "deserves an opportunity to establish his defense."

State 'Affirmative Action'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state has implemented "affirmative action" guidelines to avert discrimination in state departments and agencies. Gov. William Milliken says, "Consistent with merit standards, these are the most comprehensive state guidelines ever issued on a statewide basis." Milliken said. The Michigan Equal Employment Opportunities Council, a body established by Milliken, formally issued the guidelines. The guidelines are an attempt to assure that all departments comply with Milliken's 1975 executive order on equal employment opportunity in state government. Each department is required to draft and implement an affirmative action plan for women and minority groups for each fiscal year, beginning with the one starting Oct. 1.

Lakeshore Administrators' Pay Hiked

By ALAN AREND
Staff Writer

The Lakeshore school board last night approved salary hikes for the district's key administrators and various non-certified personnel for the 1976-77 school year.

Ratification of the contracts for the top administrators, approved last night, with last year's salaries in parentheses are as follows:

Frederick Schmidt, superintendent, $29,000 ($28,250); William Galbreath, assistant superintendent, $25,500 ($23,500); Edward Reilly, high school principal, $24,000 ($22,500); John Woods, junior high principal, $22,000 ($20,000); Gloria Vanderbeck, curriculum director, $21,600 ($20,100); Dennis Kniola, assistant high school principal and athletic director, $21,000 ($19,900); Leslie Collins, Stevensville elementary principal, $18,300 ($17,300); Charles Reed, Roosevelt elementary principal, $18,300 ($17,300); Richard Peterson, Hollywood elementary principal, $18,000 ($16,600); Robert Porter, Stewart elementary principal, $18,000 ($17,000); William Hild, junior high assistant principal, $17,000 ($15,700); and Diane Wiltshire, Baroda elementary principal, $16,500 ($15,500).

Schmidt was hired as Lakeshore superintendent effective July 1, 1973, at an annual salary of $22,000.

The salaries for all administrators are base pay and do not include the five per cent board paid retirement benefit into the Michigan public schools employees retirement fund.

Individual administrator base salary hikes ranged from 5.3 to 10.1 per cent increases.

Schmidt said certified teachers have a year to go on their two-year pact signed last summer. He said the second year calls for a total wage hike of 8.5 per cent, including annual step increases.

Pay hikes for key non-certified personnel approved last night included: Floyd Parker, building and grounds supervisor, $14,500 ($13,400); Herb Sommers, transportation and maintenance supervisor, $13,000 ($12,280); Mrs. Marge Nye, food supervisor, $10,850 ($10,000); and Mrs. Betty Verdien, school nurse, $9,300 ($8,500).

Clerical employees were granted raises averaging $8 per week, bringing secretary salaries to between $111 and $165 per week, depending on the step scale.

Cooks were granted an across the board 30-cent per hour pay hike bringing their hourly rate to between $3.07 to $3.98, depending on the step scale and teacher aides were granted 25-cent per hour raises, bringing the range up to between $2.30 and $3.25 per hour.

In other areas, the board approved three new positions including a second assistant principal position at the high school, an additional special education teacher and an additional instrumental music teacher. No one has been hired to any of the positions.

John Steinke, board president, said an additional assistant principal is needed at the high school due to several reasons. First, he said an additional 100 students are expected at the school this fall bringing total enrollment there to what he termed "an overcrowded" 1,300. He said the rapid expansion of girls' athletics, use of the auditorium, and evaluations of certified personnel, are other key reasons.

The board approved the following: curriculum council recommendations for the 1976-77 school year: Art supplies for all buildings, $2,375; K-6 English textbooks, $13,000; Spanish III textbooks, $311; general drawing textbooks, $380; home economics textbooks, junior high, $280; mathematics skills record cards, $100; career-individual awareness textbooks, high, $670; and new senior high government textbooks.

The board passed a resolution, to be forwarded to the Berrien Intermediate school district, opposing a request for a property transfer from the Lakeshore school system to the Berrien Springs school system. The request is being made by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Mitchell.

Snow road, Oronoko township. Schmidt said the property in question is around 12 acres with a state equalized valuation of $8,715.

The board's annual reorganizational meeting is slated for July 12.

Tax Vote Losses Means No Meeting

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — A convention of the Michigan Congress of School Administrators has been called off. Officials said the cancellations were prompted by recent defaults of school millages in many parts of the state. Between 250 and 300 persons had been expected to attend the convention at the Kalamazoo Center June 27-29.

Police, Firemen Warn BH City Hall

The attorney representing Benton Harbor police and firemen has warned city administrators he will return to court if a new policy is implemented that could reduce pension benefits for retiring officers.

In a sharply worded letter to Deputy City Manager Melvin Farmer Jr., Atty. Thomas R. Fette warned, "We will take whatever legal action is necessary to prevent the city from committing yet another unilateral and illegal act with respect to the police and firemen's retirement system."

The contents of the letter were made public yesterday by fireman Thomas Fogarty, president of Local 685 of the International Association of Firefighters.

The announcement came three days after Berrien Circuit Judge Charles J. Byrns had ordered the city to repay $500,000 borrowed illegally from the policemen and firemen's pension fund. The judge's ruling also prohibited the city from further borrowing from the fund. The decision stemmed from a class action suit originally filed in 1972 on behalf of policemen and firemen.

In the latest dispute, Farmer issued a memorandum announcing that effective July 1 both employee and city contributions to the retirement fund will no longer be paid on overtime earned by police and firemen.

Farmer said yesterday the decision was made in an effort to cut costs to the city.

In his letter to Farmer, Fette said the action would be illegal for three reasons.

Firstly, city administrators failed to seek permission from the Circuit court which has retained jurisdiction over the fund, since 1973, he said. City administrators also failed to negotiate the new policy with police and firemen as called for in their contracts. Lastly, Fette said the policy violates what he termed, "clear and unambiguous provisions of the pension plan itself."

The new policy could greatly reduce the amount of pension benefits paid to retiring employees, according to Fogarty. He said an employee's retirement pay is calculated by averaging his annual salaries for the three highest paid years. The retirement pay is 50 per cent of that average.

If overtime is not included in the annual salary, the average salary figure could be reduced, Fogarty said.

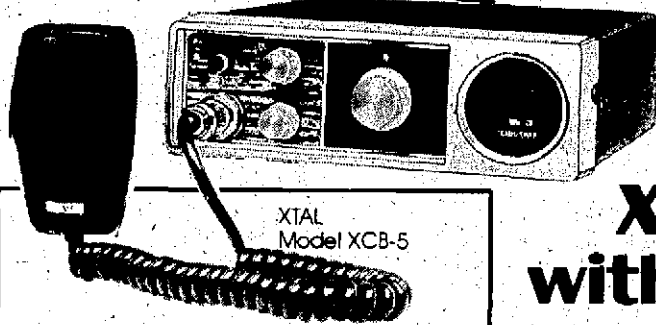

Farmer said he had found no documentation in city records to support the current practice of paying retirement for overtime. He said the new policy would not affect pension benefits of those policemen and firemen already retired.

Paw Paw Board Increases Pay

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — Eight administrators were granted pay increases averaging 6.5 per cent, and Supt. Norval Bovee was given a new three-year contract, including a pay increase, during last night's regular monthly meeting of the Paw Paw school board.

Under the terms of the contract, approved by a 5 to 1 vote, Dr. Bovee's annual salary will be raised from $29,355 to $29,750. The board will also pay $3,278 for an insurance package for the superintendent, according to board member Reynold Ous, Jr.

Salaries for administrators receiving new two-year contracts, with last year's figure in parentheses, include: Darrell Crose, administrative assistant, $24,612 ($23,358); Stuart Ehlens, high school principal, $24,172 ($23,000); Richard Brill, middle school principal, $22,331 ($21,373); and Dean Wells, community education director, $21,806 ($20,703).

Also C. William Wilson, Cedar Street principal, $20,038 ($19,487); Andrew Cook, Black River principal, $18,925 ($18,764); Michael Schwartz, athletic director, $18,657 ($18,595); and William Carrington, assistant community education director, $19,024 ($18,843).

The board also voted pay increases averaging 6.5 per cent in eight non-certified supervisory and central office personnel.

Mrs. Gloria Jean Berry cast the lone dissenting vote against Bovee's new contract, but declined to elaborate on her reasons for doing so after the meeting. Voting in favor were Ous, Harold Price, Betty Rasmussen, William Rhodes, and Douglas Howe, with Robert Tuske absent.

In other areas, the board authorized $8,300 for a new tractor and grounds maintenance equipment, $8,500 for three new sections of bleachers for the football field, and ordered Bovee to hire an engineer to draw up plans for ventilating the high school metal shop and science rooms, and middle school wood shop. The latter project is expected to cost between $10,000 and $20,000.

The board also voted to enter into a five-year lease agreement with the Motorola Corp. to provide VHF radios for 18 school buses, two special education vans, and two other portable units. The radios are for emergency communications.

OPPOSED BY RESIDENTS Bridgman To Drop Subdivision Project

BRIDGMAN — Plans to replace sewer and water lines, pave streets, and install curbs and gutters in the Toth subdivision were dropped by the Bridgman city commission last night by a 4 to 1 vote after opposition to the project was voiced at a public hearing.

The project was estimated to cost $499,600 with 25 per cent of the amount to be paid by property owners in the area.

About 40 people attended the public hearing which lasted about an hour and 20 minutes.

Mrs. Jerry Osborne, 4393 Oak street, presented results of a survey in which she said that 39 of 52 property owners questioned, were against the plan. There are 70 owners in the subdivision.

Voting to drop the project were commissioners Mrs. Marilyn Stanard, Jim Catania, Vernon Stanard and James Benbenek. Voting no was Alfred Toules. Commissioner Charles Giltner was absent.

In other areas, Mrs. Evelyn Hemming, chairman of the

Firemen Say Arson Attempt Was Failure

Benton Harbor firemen said an apparent attempt to start a fire in the cab of a pickup truck early today failed when the fire burned itself out without damaging the 1967 Ford truck. Firemen said they were called about 1 a.m. by the owner, Hilton Nelson, 201 Lake street. Gasoline appeared to have been poured into the cab, firemen said.

Urges Meeting Be Called Off

ATLANTA (AP) — The president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference has asked President Ford to urge Secretary of State Henry Kissinger to call off his meeting on Wednesday with the prime minister of South Africa. # Cass Woman Slain; Husband Facing Charge

By JOHN DYE
South Berrien Bureau

NILES — A Niles man was being held in the Cass county jail this morning on an open charge of murder in connection with the shooting death of his estranged wife last night east of here in Cass county's Howard township. Scheduled to be arraigned in Fourth district court at Cassopolis later today on the murder charge was Wendell Crawford, 42, of 2456 Terminal road, Niles, a Howard township address.

Dee Fankhauser, Howard township police chief, identified the victim as Verna Faye Crawford, 35, of 2539 Kennedy drive, Niles, also a Howard township address. He said she was the estranged wife of the arrested man.

Fankhauser said Mrs. Crawford died in the emergency room of Pawling hospital, Niles, at 11:20 p.m., nearly two hours after she was shot in her home.

Fankhauser said Mrs. Crawford apparently was shot inside the home and then staggered to the front lawn of the residence where she collapsed. She suffered five or six gunshot wounds of the chest and stomach, the chief said.

Area residents called Howard township police at 9:48 p.m. after hearing the shots, Fankhauser said.

Police said the shooting followed an apparent domestic dispute between the two. Fankhauser said the couple had reportedly been at odds since a separation two or three months ago.

Crawford was arrested in Three Rivers by police there about 3:30 a.m. this morning.

Fankhauser said the victim's wounds were caused by bullets fired from a .22 caliber weapon, believed to be a rifle, that has not been recovered.

An autopsy was scheduled at Pawling today to determine the exact cause of death, Fankhauser said.

He now can stand upright again and is expected to begin walking soon. Mrs. Fletcher is director of Westgate center which serves handicapped people. (Norma Lerner photo)

LAWTON SCHOOLS

Athletic Boosters Offering $16,000

LAWTON — The Lawton school board last night was advised the athletic boosters club would provide about $16,000 for high school athletic programs in the 1976-77 school year.

John Allen, chairman of the boosters club, told the board it was estimated an additional $5,000 would be needed to run all athletic programs through the entire year.

The school board has not budgeted any money to be spent on varsity athletics next year, according to Supt. George Dannecker.

Allen said the athletic programs would begin in the fall and continue until either the money runs out or until additional funding is provided.

In other areas, the board set new salaries for the three principals next year.

Richard Weaver, high school principal, is to receive $20,000 in 1976-77, compared to $19,120 this year. Eugene Vining, middle school principal, will receive $17,500 next year, compared to $16,750 this year, and Gerald Howard, elementary principal, will receive $16,100, compared to $15,500 this year.

The salaries will be supplemented with all other benefits received by school employees, including a five per cent payment to the retirement fund and health insurance.

Vining was appointed to serve as acting superintendent after Dannecker leaves for his new job June 30. Vining will serve until a new superintendent is hired.

Following an executive session, the board voted to expel 14-year-old Larry Conklin, a seventh grader. The action was taken in connection with recent telephone bomb threats, according to Dannecker.

The board voted to again pay to participate in regional enrichment media center programs for 1976-77.

The center, located in Berrien Springs, provides films, in-service training for teachers, printing, and audio-visual materials.

The service costs $1.55 per student, or about $1,700 for next year, according to Dannecker.

Fennville Studying Police Phone Plan

FENNIVILLE — The Fennville city commission last night turned over to its police committee a proposal to link the police department's phone number with the Allegan county sheriff's department.

If the proposal were adopted, Fennville residents could summon police round the clock by dialing a local number. At present, when the police department is not manned, residents must call the sheriff's department long distance in Allegan.

The police committee is expected to make a recommendation at the July 12 council meeting on whether to enter into the system which would allow local policemen to merely flip a switch, transferring local calls for police through a direct line to the sheriff dispatcher in Allegan.

In other areas, it was noted that there are two trees remaining of the 10 the city will plant for free. Residents with suggestions for locations for the trees should contact city hall, commissioners said.

The commission voted to spread revenue sharing funds on the 38th street sewer installation project. The funds are to be spent as needed, commissioners said.

BH Man Found Shot To Death In His Home

By TOM SAWYER
Staff Writer

Benton Harbor police said John Paul Hollis, 31, was found shot to death Monday evening in the bathroom of his home at 706 Pavone street. A babysitter discovered the body as she returned Hollis' four children to the home, police reported.

Cyclist Hurt In Smashup

MARCELLUS — A Marcellus man was reported in serious condition this morning with injuries suffered in a freak accident last night when his motorcycle crashed into a car driven by his wife.

The victim was identified as Michael Kelley, 28, according to Cass sheriff's deputies. He was in Bronson hospital, Kalamazoo, this morning, with injuries suffered in the 9:30 p.m. accident at the intersection of Main and Maple streets in Marcellus.

Deputies said Kelley's wife, Victoria, was driving west on Main street when Kelley attempted to pass her on the right just as she started a right hand turn.

No tickets were issued, officers said.

Fennville Fills New School Job

FENNIVILLE — The Fennville school board last night hired Mrs. Ardith Raak to the newly created position of K-8 curriculum coordinator during a special meeting.

Mrs. Raak has been assistant elementary principal at Fennville for the past two years. Her new one-year (44-week) contract calls for a salary of $16,700. She was earning $16,000 as assistant elementary principal, according to Supt. James Tuckmann.

The board also hired Donald Halst to replace Mrs. Raak as assistant elementary principal. He has been a Fennville middle school science teacher for the past three years. His one-year (38-week) contract calls for a salary of $14,000.

In other areas, it was reported that the athletic department had money left after the past year's operation. Supt. Tuckmann said that due to the new gym and stadium with increased seating capacities, total receipts were $22,444 as compared to $11,300 in 1974-75. The year-end balance was $681.

The board's annual reorganizational meeting will be held Monday, July 12, at 7:30 p.m.

Apartment Break-In Reported

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Patricia Patterson, 116 Midway street, apartment 2, Berrien Springs, told police here that items valued at $1,150 were taken in a break-in of her apartment yesterday.

Berrien Springs village-Oranoka township police said she awakened about 7 a.m. yesterday to find a screen to her first floor apartment window had been cut to gain entry. Items reported taken were a portable color television set, valued at $400; 15 statuettes, valued at $750; and assorted jewelry of unknown value.

Strike Spreads

DETROIT (AP) — A wildcat Teamsters strike spread from Flint to Detroit Monday when some 50 workers picketed Automobile Transport Inc., which hauls autos from car assembly plants to dealers in the Midwest and South.

The Detroit auto haulway drivers joined 586 other Teamsters who have been off the job for two weeks in Flint. The wildcat walkouts stem from dissatisfaction with a proposed contract under which the haulway drivers would work.

JOHN P. HOLLIS
Gunshot Victim

Hollis was dressed in slacks and shoes, but had no shirt on when found. The detective reported no motive had yet been established and the shooting is under further investigation. No arrests have been made.

Hollis was employed at Superior Steel Castings company, Benton Harbor.

The death was the fifth homicide reported in Benton Harbor so far this year. The city reported just one homicide in 1975.

Italians Face Long Government Crisis

gave the Christian Democrats 14.2 million votes, the Communists 12.6 million, the Socialist Italian Social Movement (MSI) 2.2 million, the Democratic Socialists 1.2 million and the Republicans 1.1 million. Smaller parties and joint tickets divided the rest.

The Christian Democrats won 263 seats in the 630-seat chamber, a loss of three, and were 33 short of a majority. The Communists increased their standing from 179 seats to 227.

In the races for the Senate, the Christian Democrats got 12.2 million votes (38.9 per cent) and held on to the 135 seats they had. The Communists rolled up 10.8 million votes (33.8 per cent) and boosted their representation from 91 seats to 116. In 1972 the percentages were Christian Democrats 38.1 and Communists 27.8.

The difference between the voting for the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate was due to the fact that persons between 18 and 25 years old could vote for candidates for the lower house but not in the senatorial elections.

The losers were the Socialists, whose withdrawal of support from Premier Aldo Moro triggered the election a year ahead of schedule, and the other smaller parties that were squeezed by the polarizing battle between the Christian Democrats and the Communists.

The neo-fascist MSI suffered from involvement in campaign violence and an avid Christian Democratic courtship of its supporters.

"There is a marked polarization toward the two major parties," commented Socialist party secretary Francesco de Martino. The deputy secretary, Giovanni Mosca, announced his resignation after learning the party's seats in the Senate had dwindled from 33 to 29. His action threw the party into disarray.

The new parliament is scheduled to convene July 5.

All the old familiar faces will be present since their names were at the top of the party lists, assuring them seats if their parties made a minimum showing.

Among the new faces on the Senate benches will be Umberto Agnelli, millionaire general manager of the Fiat automobile company, who ran as a Christian Democrat; retired Gen. Nino Pasti, a former NATO deputy commander who ran as an independent on the Communist ticket; and Catholic journalist Gianroberto La Valle, who ran as a Communist.

Pope Paul VI denounced La Valle and other Catholic laymen who ran with the Communists as "traitors," while the church hierarchy threatened them with excommunication.

Broker Will Be Arraigned

PAW PAW, Mich. (AP) — C.E. Cook, president of a defunct Grand Rapids brokerage house, is scheduled to be arraigned in Paw Paw on Thursday after he was ordered returned to Michigan by Arizona's governor.

Cook, 42, is charged with securities law violations involving stock sold at South Haven. She claims she was defrauded in the 1974 transaction.

Cook, who has been living in Scottsdale, Ariz., since 1973, also faces a $10 million civil suit in federal court at Grand Rapids. The suit by 77 former customers claims Cook sold them speculative securities in violation of federal law.

Gov. Raul Castro of Arizona ordered Cook to return to Michigan after a hearing last Friday. Cook agreed to return voluntarily after hearing the governor's decision.

cision when she entered her plea last week.

The two were named last week in a federal grand jury indictment charging them with five counts of first-degree murder, 10 counts of poisoning and one count of conspiracy.

The indictments and arrests ended a 10-month federal investigation into a bizarre series of respiratory failures last summer among patients at the Ann Arbor VA Hospital.

Federal investigators allege that the nurses used injections of a paralyzing drug, Pavulon, to kill five hospital patients and poison 10 others who survived breathing failures.

Today In MICHIGAN

Vo-Ed Training Pays Off

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The State Board of Education says high school vocational training apparently pays off. The board on Monday said a survey of 1975 high school graduates in vocational education indicated that of the 85 per cent who responded, more than 80 per cent who wanted work found jobs. Of those employed, the board said, 70 per cent said they were working fulltime while 30 per cent had parttime jobs. Sixty-two per cent of the fulltimers said their employment was related to their training, while 38 per cent said their training had no effect. More than 80 per cent of those employed said they were satisfied with their jobs, the board added.

Precinct Delegates Excluded

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Democratic State Central Committee Saturday elected 34 at-large delegates to the July national convention over protests that the election was rigged by the party elite. Without input from the party rank-and-file, state central leaders chose delegate slates approved in advance by presidential candidates Jimmy Carter and Morris Udall. Carter received 15 at-large delegates, Udall 14 and four were uncommitted, based on results of the May presidential primary. Because of party rule changes since the 1972 convention, precinct delegates — the party's grass roots — were excluded from choosing their presidential electors. Big names like Detroit Mayor Coleman Young and United Auto Workers Vice President Douglas Fraser, both members of Carter's at-large slate, dominated selections Saturday. "This represents a serious erosion of what little power precinct delegates had," said James Kerwin, Detroit deputy city clerk and one of those challenging the selection process.

Support For Seafarer

MENOMINEE, Mich. (AP) — The Upper Peninsula Association of American Legion Posts has adopted a resolution in support of Project Seafarer. Seafarer is a proposed system of underground grids used to communicate with submarines. The Navy has said the U.P. is its preferred site for the project. At its annual meeting held last weekend, the American Legion group said Seafarer is "vital" to national security. Two Navy officials briefed the meeting on Seafarer before the resolution was adopted.

Its Higher, Yet Lower

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A bill appropriating an extra $17.6 million to the Department of Corrections to cover the balance of the fiscal year is in the Senate. The bill, passed Monday by the House 79-19, is $673,000 higher than the Senate-passed version, but $1.3 million below the governor's recommendation. When combined with federal and other funds, it calls for total spending of $18.8 million. The House approved 90-0 and sent to the governor a bill appropriating an extra $1.4 million to the corrections department this fiscal year for prison guard salaries and administrative costs. It includes $431,000 for Southern Michigan Prison in Jackson and $328,600 for state operation of the Detroit House of Corrections for women. Both bills would become law immediately if signed by the governor.

Stop The Marriages

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Warren District Judge Roy N. Greenberg was ordered Monday to stop performing marriages while under suspension by the state Supreme Court. In January, Greenberg was ordered to "refrain from acting as a judge" while a number of misconduct charges against him were resolved. The case is still unresolved, and the interim suspension remains in force. Yet since April 30, Greenberg has performed at least five marriages. One of them was in St. Clair Shores, outside the jurisdiction of the Warren court. Michigan law allows district judges to solemnize marriages only in their own districts. The marriages of the five couples will not be nullified, according to the attorney general's office, because Michigan law validates marriages if the couple involved believes the person performing them has the proper authority.

Manuals Prove Popular

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State senators have voted to provide themselves with almost 2,000 additional copies each of the "Michigan Manual," a 1,000-plus-page guide to Michigan government. The Senate voted 29-9 — the minimum voted needed for passage — Monday night and sent to the House a bill to give each of the 38 senators 50 copies of the manual for a total of 1,900 additional volumes. The book contains biographical sketches of state officials, the Constitution, voting results of past elections, descriptions of legislative districts and endless facts and figures about Michigan government and politics. While the senators would get 50 copies each under the bill, House members be eligible for only 25.

'Highly Prejudicial'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Wayne County prosecutor's office made highly prejudicial statements during a trial, the state appeals court said Monday in reversing a drug conviction. The court returned the drug conviction of Debbie Hunter and returned her case to Detroit Recorder's Court for a possible retrial. The woman was convicted of possession of heroin in 1975 by a jury in the court of Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Joseph Gillis. The appeals court said the attorney representing the prosecutor's office attempted to "encourage a verdict based on the fears of the jury and their desire to save the City of Detroit rather than on the evidence." The statement referred to, according to court record, said in part "...it's time that the citizens just get together and just throw these bums out of town. These same bums that are destroying the city. And that's what I'm talking about. And bums come in all forms. And you say a couple today, and that's what it's all about. The question is, are you going to do something about it?"

CETA Funds Are Allocated For 229 Jobs

By JIM DELAND
Assistant City Editor

Allocation of more than $1.2 million in federal funds for 229 jobs in Berrien county during the next seven months has been announced by Weldon Burden, director of the county CETA program. Burden said the allocation would be for a 30-week period from July 1 through Jan. 31 of next year and came from $1,870,000 in Title 2 funds authorized for the county in April under the Department of Labor's Comprehensive Employment and Training Act.

He explained that under Department of Labor guidelines, 15 per cent of the total county allocation must be set aside for unemployment compensation while another portion will pay for administrative costs. Burden noted that the 229 full-time jobs to be provided by the new funds represents a sharp drop from the 529 CETA-financed jobs in the county last October.

He said most of the 229 positions were for employees laid off from CETA-supported jobs as federal funds ran out during recent months. Selection of the sub-grantees and positions to receive the new funds was made by the county Manpower Planning Council's public service employment sub-committee.

In allocating the new money, the number of sub-grantees was cut from 78 to 51, Burden said, and most of those received funding at a reduced level that would support fewer jobs than they had last year. The City of Benton Harbor again will be the largest single CETA employer with funding of $150,342 for 26 positions, but this is far below the 87 city jobs on the CETA payroll last year.

Other major employers under the allocation are Niles township with funding of $121,303 and the county government with $110,436 for 18 positions. Geographical breakdown shows various agencies in Benton Harbor are allocated $243,500 for 42 positions and Benton township agencies allocated $146,271 for 24 positions.

Other geographical totals announced by Burden include City of St. Joseph, $71,157 for 11 positions; St. Joseph township, $60,663 for 12 positions; Lincoln township, $70,184 for 14 positions; Niles city, $92,023 for 18 positions; Niles township $121,303 for 19 positions and the balance of the county $481,571 for 63 positions.

Burden said the allocation was based on unemployment figures for March, April and May. April Title 2 funds are designed to provide transitional jobs for unemployed and underemployed workers in areas designated by the Department of Labor as having significant unemployment of 6.5 per cent or more for three consecutive months.

CPA: Joseph L. Christoffel, 23, Lemon Creek road, Berrien Springs, has been granted certified public accountant's certificate by state's board of accountancy. Graduate of Andrews university academy and Andrews university, he is employed by certified public accounting firm of Herkner, Sniks, Miskill and Merrifield of Benton Harbor.

River Valley Votes To Try Again On School Bond Issue

THREE OAKS — The River Valley school board during a special session last night voted to seek approval of the state board of education to present a school building bond issue to voters.

Board Secretary Adrian Van-

Ginoven described the board action as "very preliminary," but said the board is considering an issue similar to a $3,475,000 bond issue defeated by voters last September by a 1,047 to 632 margin.

That issue would have financed construction of a new middle school and remodeling work at three existing buildings.

The board secretary said the board did not set an election date or bond issue amount at last night's meeting.

In other action, the board tabled a request from the village of Three Oaks asking the school district to install curbs and gutters along the west side of Hickory street, adjacent to the Three Oaks school property. Cost to the school district would be about $1,200, the board said.

The board voted to have chloride applied to the drive at the back exit to the high school in response to complaints from neighbors about dust from the drive.

Dr. John Dooley, assistant superintendent, said the district has been allotted funds to hire five employees under the federal Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) program. The positions are a switch-board operator, maintenance trainee, assistant bus mechanic, custodian and night watchman.

The board set a special reorganizational meeting for Tuesday, July 6, at 7:30 p.m. The special session will replace the regular July 12 meeting of the board.

Tallest In Michigan

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Plaza, the central tower in the rising Renaissance Center complex on Detroit's waterfront, this week became the tallest building in Michigan. The 61st floor of the building, which will be 70 stories when finished, was completed Monday, according to officials. That passes the 48-story City National Bank Building (formerly the Penobscut Building), also in downtown Detroit, which held the Michigan building-height crown for nearly half a century.

Court Outlines Lake Weed Plan

Berrien Circuit Judge William S. White Monday ruled the Paw Paw Lake Improvement Board can proceed with a project for lake weed control only after the board adopts tentative assessments on a benefit basis.

White also held that a temporary restraining order prohibiting the board from starting lake clean-up procedures will remain in effect until the tentative assessments are adopted.

The judge ordered that the assessments must be sent to property owners before a public hearing, as yet unscheduled, is conducted on the assessments. White said he was informed the tentative assessments should be prepared within two weeks.

The board had initially assessed taxes for weed control to shoreline owners on a front-footage basis, but White in February held that method was illegal. He ruled in favor of Paw Paw Lake property owners William Stewart, owner of Paw Paw Lake golf course, and Michael McArtie, Sr., who filed suit challenging the assessment method.

The judge ruled the assessments must be based on a formula dealing with benefit and include Watervliet and Coloma townships and any other governmental units determined to receive benefits from the weed control.

Van Buren Center To Get Grant

PAW PAW — The Van Buren county work activity center has received a $2,000 federal vocational rehabilitation grant, according to John A. Clark, director of mental retardation services for the county.

The grant, according to Clark, will be used to purchase new power tools for the wood working shop at the center, which trains the handicapped. The grant was awarded on an 80 per cent federal, 20 per cent local match basis, and made possible through a $400 contribution from the county Association for Retarded Citizens.

The center is located on 52nd street east of Bangor.

'Milestone Programs'

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Four "milestone programs" were among recipients of $15,000,000 in grants given in 1975 by the Charles Stewart Mott Foundation. The Foundation's annual report for 1975 called the projects milestones in community self-improvement. Included were: Project USE, a neighborhood problem-solving program of the Flint Board of Education; a multi-level industrial, economic and central city development program in downtown Flint; Centers for Community Education Development in 77 U.S. communities; and a multi-media training program, "Community Education Processes: How They Work." The Foundation report listed assets over $400 million, compared with $364 million at the end of 1975.

Van Buren GOP Women Slate Barbecue July 17

BANGOR — The Van Buren county Republican Women's club will host its 15th annual GOP Barbecue, Saturday, July 17, at the Triple S Produce company, near here. Tickets for the event are available from any GOP party worker or the law office of Adams, Adams and Schullmaker, Paw Paw. Co-chairmen of the event are Mrs. Carl (Betty) Hoyer, and Mrs. Roger (Sandra) Valentine, both of Bangor.

Area Banks Plan To Offer Bicentennial Bonds In July

The Peoples State bank, St. Joseph, will issue on request Bicentennial-design Series E savings bonds dated July 4 to over-the-counter customers between July 1-30.

Peoples State Executive Vice President Orville O. Schrage announced the special issue, saying, "This special commemoration of our nation's 200th birthday will have no effect on the terms and conditions effective on the bonds."

The savings bonds with the special bicentennial design and

July 4 date also will be available at Farmers and Merchants National bank and Inter-City bank, both headquartered in Benton Harbor. First National bank of Southwestern Michigan reported it will issue such bonds, if they're available, but had not yet received information from the federal government.

Schrage said denominations of the Bicentennial-design Series E savings bonds range from $25 to $1,000, with purchase prices of $18.75 to $790. He said they draw 6 per cent interest interest when held to a five-year maturity (4 1/2 per cent the first year), and carry an automatic 10-year extension of interest beyond maturity Schrage said:

"We are extremely pleased to be able to offer everyone in this area a chance to make the purchase of savings bonds a truly Bicentennial event. Those bonds bearing the July 4 date will make perfect souvenirs of our birthday celebration that everyone will want to have and keep for many years to come."

Arlington Learns Of Dog Survey

BANGOR — The Arlington township board last night was advised of an impending survey by the Van Buren county dog warden in an effort to ferret out unlicensed animals.

The information came in a letter to the board from County Commissioner Donald Hanson, of Decatur.

The letter noted that dogs were causing serious health and damage problems in the county.

The letter also noted that dog licenses can be obtained at the county treasurer's office in Paw Paw.

In another area, it was announced the zoning board will meet Monday, June 28, at 8 p.m. in the township hall.

South Haven Woman's Slayer Gets Life Term

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — Ronald W. Wilson, convicted by a circuit court jury here of first degree murder in the shooting death of the wife of a South Haven councilman, was sentenced to a mandatory term of life imprisonment yesterday. The sentence was handed down by Judge Meyer Warshawsky in Van Buren circuit court here. In handing down the sentence, the judge noted that a conviction of first degree murder carries no provision for parole.

Wilson, 27, Gary, Ind., was tried for the slaying of Mrs. Arretta Lou Inghram, wife of Councilman Wilbur Inghram, as she attempted to call police during a holdup of the couple's neighborhood grocery store on Maple street Dec. 1. The jury returned the verdict June 4.

Wilson was apprehended by police at the home of his sister several blocks from the store. Edwin Lamar Langston, 23, South Haven, the alleged getaway driver in the robbery, is scheduled to be tried on a charge of first-degree murder in circuit court July 20.

During sentencing yesterday, Wilson displayed no outward signs of emotion, and stood quietly with his arms folded across his chest as he learned his fate.

Defense Atty John Szymanski of Bangor noted that Wilson has above average intelligence and said that his client could "demonstrate he is capable of being a positive member of society."

New Buffalo To Seek New Date For Millage Vote

NEW BUFFALO — One week after voter defeat of two property tax millage proposals, the New Buffalo school board last night voted to seek approval of a new election date. The board voted to request the county election committee to schedule the election for Aug. 30.

A special work session was set for next Monday, June 28, to determine the millage to be sought in the election. On June 14, voters rejected renewal of 14.824 mills and an additional 1.298 mills, leaving the district with only 8.376 county allocated mills slated so far for the 1976 tax rate.

Schwartz told the board that the school program could not be operated without extra-voted mills. The rate would have raised about $700,000, if approved.

The superintendent said the district's tentative budget was $1,572,813 prior to defeat of the millage proposals.

If 17 teachers who were laid off due to financial was become eligible for unemployment benefits for the summer, the cost to the school district would be $20,000 he added.

Schwartz said the district will have to operate on a "day-to-day" basis as of July 1.

In related matters, the board authorized Schwartz to seek Permission from the state education department to borrow up to $100,000 in anticipation of state school aid and to borrow funds in anticipation of local tax revenue as well.

Negotiations with the New Buffalo Teachers association were suspended by the board until after the planned millage election is held.

The board voted 4 to 3 to extend Schwartz's contract one year from 1978 to 1979. No increase in salary was granted. Schwartz was paid a salary $24,000 for the current school year.

Voting to extend the contract were trustees Charles Wilens, Veronica Schroder, David Holmes and Leo Mundt. Voting no were George Calnin, Dr. Benedict D'Amato and Howard Cover.

A reorganizational meeting of the board was set for July 12. The board took no action on a letter of resignation submitted by Roger Vink, junior varsity basketball coach and cross country coach.

A request from Thomas Holets, band director, to allow high school band students to attend a week-long summer camp at Michigan State university was approved. Funds for the camp were raised by the Band Parents organization.

The board voted to continue its summer recreation program.

The retirement of George Inness, transportation supervisor for the district the past 11 years, was announced.

Two Boys Suffer Rat Scratches

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Two Berrien Springs boys were treated for rat scratches at Berrien General hospital yesterday after the pair told police they were scratched while playing.

Treated and released from the hospital were Kenneth Moore, 7, the grandson of Mrs. Irene Moore, 458 West Ferry street, and Ronald Brown, 10, the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Brown, 431 West Ferry street.

Berrien Springs village-Oronoko township police said the two boys told officers they were playing behind the old Dean's Dairy building on West Ferry street when they were scratched on their hands shortly after 3 p.m.

The boys told police they grabbed the rat by its tail and put the animal in a crate. The rat was taken to the Hecht Veterinary clinic, north of here, and may be shipped to Lansing for rabies tests, police said.

Mrs. Cindy Newman, an employee of the Berrien county health department nursing division, said at least two previous reports of rat scratches or bites have been filed with the department since the first of the year from throughout the county.

NORTHERN TRIP

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — Jimmy Carter, the probable winner of the Democratic presidential nomination, plans to leave his home town today for a two-day northern excursion that will include fundraising activities and a meeting with congressional leaders.

Ashe, Other Seeded Netters Winners At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — For two weeks, during the Wimbledon tournament, the British try to forget about their nation's decline and the sagging pound sterling, and concentrate on the constancy and delight of watching tennis played on the most hallowed grass in the world by the game's best players.

The 24,500 fans who swarmed into the All-England Club a few miles southwest of central London for opening day Monday, saw no big upsets. Defending champion and No. 1 seed Arthur Ashe and all the seeded men's singles players who got on court came away victorious.

Ashe, whose emotional victory over Jimmy Connors in the 1975 final still is discussed here, had a good workout against Ferdi Taygan of Framingham, Mass., a UCLA student making his Wimbledon debut. Despite 10 double faults and a couple of set points saved, Ashe emerged a 7-5, 6-4, 7-5 winner.

Connors also showed why he is the No. 2 seed and the bookmakers' favorite to regain the title he won in 1974, easily beating Antonio Zugarelli of Italy 6-2, 6-3, 6-2.

The other seeds who made it to the second round were Ilie Nastase of Romania, Bjorn Borg of Sweden, Adriano Panatta of Italy, Argentina's Guillermo Vilas, Roscoe Tanner of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., Mexico's Raul Ramirez, Tom Okker of The Netherlands, John Newcombe and Tony Roche of Australia, Jaime Fillol of Chile and Brian Gottfried of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

The only seed not to play Monday was Stan Smith of Sea Pines, S.C., whose match against Patricio Cornejo of Chile was scheduled today.

Ashe said his objective simply was to make it into Wimbledon's second week before worrying about facing the top players. He named his most feared rivals as Tanner, Nastase and Connors, but said there were many other tough, unheralded players in the field.

One of those could be Ashe's next opponent, Allan Stolle of Australia. Stolle beat Ashe last year only one day after the 42-year-old Miami, Fla., star had won the World Championship of Tennis final.

Meanwhile, Ashe said that women's tennis is somewhat different.

"After Evonne (Goolagong of Australia) and Chris Evert, it just drops off like a cliff. No one else is in their class," he said.

Miss Evert, 21, and Miss Goolagong, 24, are both former Wimbledon champions. Miss Evert won in 1974 and Miss Goolagong in 1971.

Miss Evert, sporting a new, shorter hairdo, is the No. 1 seed and the favorite to capture the title won last year by Billie Jean King, who has retired from singles competition. Ms. King is here, but only to compete in the women's and mixed doubles in search of her 20th Wimbledon title, which would be an all-time record.

Miss Goolagong is seeded second, and appears to be at the top of her game.

The other women's seeds chasing the most sought-after title in tennis are, in order: Virginia Wade of Britain, Martina Navratilova, a Czech now living in the United States, Olga Morozova of the Soviet Union, Rosemary Casals of San Francisco, Sue Barker of Britain and Kerry Reid of Australia.

Women's play was scheduled to begin today.

Splendid Effort By AL Hurlers

Sox, Tigers Win In 11th

From Associated Press

A no-hitter was the furthest thing from Wayne Garland's mind. He was just hoping for a complete game.

Well, he got what he wanted — and almost got what he didn't expect.

Garland, a long-forgotten man on the Baltimore staff, was recently moved into the starting rotation — and repaid the Orioles with a splendid pitching performance Monday night.

The chunky right-hander pitched a no-hitter before losing it with two out in the eighth inning and finished with a 2-0, two-hit triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

Garland has flirted with no-hit fame before, but surprisingly, did not complete that start. It was against the Oakland A's two years ago and Garland lost it in the ninth before getting hit hard and driven to the showers.

The burly Garland had the Red Sox mesmerized until Rico Petrocelli punched a weak ground single on a 2-0 count through the right side of the infield in the eighth.

Then in the ninth, Rick Miller reached base on an infield single for the Red Sox, but Garland struck out the next batter, his 10th of the game, and the Orioles pulled off a double play to finish off Boston.

Two other American League pitchers also had good nights. Bert Blyleven fired a one-hitter to lead the Texas Rangers to a 1-0, 10-inning victory over the Oakland A's, and Ed Figueroa pitched a three-hitter to pace the New York Yankees to a 6-0 decision over the Cleveland Indians.

Elsewhere, the California Angels nipped the Minnesota Twins 2-1 in 10 innings; the Chicago White Sox defeated the Kansas City Royals 2-1 in 11 innings and the Detroit Tigers turned back the Milwaukee Brewers 3-2 in 11.

Blyleven earned his 100th major league victory with a splendid one-hit performance, and Tom Grieve blasted a leadoff homer in the 10th inning to give Texas its victory over Oakland.

The only hit off the Ranger right-hander was a fifth-inning single by Ken McMullen. Blyleven, 5-8, struck out eight batters and walked four. Grieve's homer, his ninth of the season, came off losing pitcher Paul Mitchell, 3-4, who gave up six hits.

Ed Figueroa's three-hit pitching, combined with the hitting and fielding of third baseman Craig Nettles, sparked New York over Cleveland. The triumph by the Yankees over their nearest rivals in the American League East increased New York's division lead to eight games. The victory was the seventh straight for the streaking Yankees.

Figueroa, 8-4, struck out seven and walked two. Cleveland starter Dennis Eckersley, 5-4, was the loser. Nettles collected three hits in the game, driving in two runs and scoring two more. He also produced fielding gems in the first two innings on balls hit by Rick Manning and Frank Duffy.

Pitch-hitter Bill Melton's 10th-inning single drove home the winning run, lifting California over Minnesota. Melton's hit was the third in a row off loser Dave Goltz.

Jim Spencer singled home Chicago's tying run in the ninth inning and the winning run in the 11th as the White Sox nipped Kansas City and snapped a 10-game losing streak for the Royals.

In the ninth, Ralph Garr and Buddy Bradford singled and, with two away, Spencer singled for the tying run. In the 11th, Jorge Orta led off with a single and was safe when reliever Tom Hall, 1-1, fielded Bradford's bunt and threw late to second trying for a forecourt. One out later, Spencer singled for the go-ahead run.

Ben Oglivie's one-out homer in the 11th inning lifted Detroit over Milwaukee. Oglivie's homer, his sixth of the season and third against the Brewers this year, saddled Jim Slaton, 8-5, with his fourth defeat in his last five decisions.

READY FOR RIHUBARD: New York Yankee manager Billy Martin raises his fist as he argues play with plate umpire Terry Cooney in second inning of game Monday night at Yankee Stadium. Martin was disputing a third strike foul call on Ray Fosse of Cleveland. The Yankees won 6-0. (AP Wirephoto)

Swim Mark For Shirley

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — California's Shirley Babashoff could well become the star of the 1976 Olympic Games at Montreal in leading the U.S. women swimmers, but the men of Uncle Sam should do better over all.

Coach Jim Counsellman, the veteran from Indiana, believes his men could win one-half of the medals at the Olympics in Montreal.

Coach Jack Nelson of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., who heads the girls' team, says this is the strongest squad of female swimmers the nation has ever assembled but readily admits the East Germans have better times.

The 19-year-old Miss Babashoff shattered the world record in the 800-meter freestyle with a time of 8:38.83 for her fifth victory at the trials and in three of the other races she set American records.

"I think," she said, "that we have the strongest women's team ever for the United States."

And she was a member of the squad and a relay gold medal winner in 1972 at Munich. This time, at Montreal, she could compete in seven events — the 100, 200, 400 and 800 freestyles and the 400 individual medley having placed first in the trials for each plus the 400 freestyle relay and the medley relay.

"I wasn't tired," she declared. "I swam the 800 just like we had planned."

Immediately after Shirley had swum, 17-year-old Brian Goodell of Mission Viejo, bettered the world record for the men's 1,500-meter freestyle in 15:06.66.

Miss Babashoff, of Mission Viejo, Calif., had officially taken the record from Jennifer Turrall of Australia, in 8:41.88, but better than that had swum faster than East Germany's Petra Thurner, who did 8:40.88 in the Communist nation's trials.

Nicole Kramer, 14, also of Mission Viejo, finished second to become the youngest on the U.S. squad.

In the other two finals on closing night of the six-day trials, Camille Wright of Louisville won the women's 100-meter butterfly in 1:01.84 for the 13th American record in Olympic events and former record holder Wendy Boglioli of Ocean Township, N.J., finished second in 1:02.07, and Joe Bottom of Santa Clara captured the men's 100 butterfly in 54.97 with Gary Hall of Cincinnati taking second in 55.05.

'Slump' Doesn't Concern Carew

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Where are you, Rod Carew? The man generally considered the best hitter in baseball isn't among the Top Ten hitters in the American League on third of the way through the season, but he's hardly worried.

Carew was hitting .309 through games of Sunday for the Minnesota Twins — 19 points below his lifetime average and almost 100 points below where he was a year ago at this time. It was also, nearly 40 points behind Detroit's Ron LeFlore, who was leading the AL.

"I'm hitting the ball," Carew said. "For a while this spring I didn't feel good at the plate, but wasn't comfortable in my hands and I wondered if playing a new position was affecting my hitting."

The 31-year-old Carew was moved to first base this year by new Manager Gene Muehle after nine seasons of second base.

"Sure, the switch is taking time," continued Carew, who has developed into a dependable, if not standout first baseman.

"Listen, I don't have anything to prove to anybody," Carew said. "Sure, I'd like to win the title again, but if I don't, I don't."

He has won four straight batting championships and five overall while building the highest lifetime average among active players.

"Let's see where everyone is at the end of the year," said Carew, who was second in the major leagues with 31 stolen bases. "Some of the balls that have been caught will start to drop in. Everything has a way of evening out in this game."

In many respects though, Carew is enjoying one of his most remarkable years.

Carew, who has missed an average of 33 games a year in his career, has only missed one game. He's given the Twins their best defense at first base since Vic Power played the position in the early 1960s, and his baserunning has been responsible for much of Minnesota's limited success.

Calvin Griffith shelled out $600,000 in spring training to sign his only superstar for three seasons and Griffith feels it has been a worthy investment.

"Certainly he's a $200,000 ballplayer," says Griffith. "If there's such a thing as a $200,000 player today, Carew has to be it."

Moses Breaks Hurdles Record At Trials

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — A pair of upstarts produced fireworks, some old veterans performed as expected and for the first time in three days of the U.S. Olympic Trials and Field Trials the winners, not the losers, drew attention.

Edwin Moses, a 20-year-old junior at Morehouse College in Atlanta, shattered the American record in the 400-meter intermediate hurdles and Brenda Morehead rocketed to a near record in the 100 Monday.

And veteran Rick Wohluter gained another Olympic trip with an expected 800 victory.

Moses' time of 48.30 bettered the American mark of 48.51 set by Ralph Mann when he ran second in the 1972 Games to John Akili-bua's 47.82 world mark.

Mann, 27, and Jim Holding, 26, two of the favorites, fell behind and failed to make the team as darkhorse Quentin Wheeler and Mike Shine qualified instead.

Monday produced none of the big surprises or controversy which marked the first two days of this eight-day competition, when such stars as sprinter Steve Williams, pole vaulter Dan Ripley and shot putter Terry Abtrition failed to make the team.

Miss Morehead, 19, a freshman at Tennessee State, burst from the starting block and sped to the finish line in 11.06, a shade off the world record of 11.04 set three weeks ago by West Germany's Ingrid Hulten.

"I felt good," she said. "I didn't think it (her time) would be that good." It was the second fastest clocking ever by an American, just off the 11.07 U.S. mark set in 1968 by Wyoming's Tys.

Second was Chandra Cheeseborough, another newcomer and, at 17, the youngest U.S. Olympic team member so far. The high school junior from Jacksonville, Fla., clocked 11.13 and was followed by Evelyn Ashford of UCLA in 11.22.

Wheeler, of San Diego State, the NCAA hurdles champ, said, "It was a very rough race. I dreamed about this and I can't believe it."

Shine, of Penn State, said, "When Holding went by me I thought it's now or never. I got to do it or die, so I just poured out my guts."

Wohluter unleashed his famous kick in the stretch and earned his second trip to the Olympics with a time of 1:44.78.

James Robinson, 21, who won the AAU title a week ago, slipped on the second turn, and dropped back to last place midway through the race. But he moved outside and exploded near the tape, finishing second in 1:45.86.

Mark Enqvist of the Utah State Track Club struggled past Villanova's Mark Delger in the last 10 meters to run 1:46.28 and round out the U.S. team in the two-lap race.

Earlier in the day, the favored trio of Mac Wilkins, John Powell and Jay Silvester all marched into the Olympics.

Wilkins, owner of the world record, responded to a home-town crowd and flung the discus 224 feet, 2 inches, earning his first Olympic berth.

The 6-foot-5, 255-pound former University of Oregon star now competing for Pacific Coast Club, set the world mark of 232-8 a month ago.

Powell, a 28-year-old former poleolman who finished fourth in the 1972 Olympics, qualified for the 1976 Games with a toss of 220-11, good for second behind Wilkins.

Third was Silvester, at 38 the oldest American team member so far. Silvester, who qualified at 212-5, will be competing in his fourth Olympics. He finished fourth in 1964, fifth in 1968 and second at Munich in 1972.

Harvey Glance, sprinting star from Auburn, continued his bid to become the first American since Ray Norton in 1960 to compete at the Olympics in both short dashes by qualifying for today's semifinals in the 200 meters.

He won the fourth heat easily in 20.56 seconds.

In the women's pentathlon, U.S. record holder Jane Frederick led after three events with 2,715 points. The Los Angeles Track Club standout was first in the shot put, second in the high jump and third in the hurdles.

Second was Marilyn Linsmeyer of Texas Track Club with 2,638 points, followed by Marilyn King of Millbrae, Calif., with 2,599 points.

The final two events, long jump and 200 meters, were scheduled for today.

N. Buffalo Marina Dedication July 17

The Michigan State Waterways Commission will dedicate a new Great Lakes harbor-of-refuge for recreational boats at New Buffalo on July 17, but will not open another facility at Harbor Beach this summer, which was damaged by winter ice.

The $2.8 million New Buffalo facility was built at the mouth of the Gallien River where local marina owners will maintain 20 boat wells to accommodate traveling sailors.

Keith Wilson, chief of the waterways division for the Department of Natural Resources, says Governor William G. Milliken has been invited as the principal speaker at the dedication. Also expected to attend the ceremonies are State Senator Charles O. Zollar of Benton Harbor, State Representative Harry Gast Jr. and local elected officials.

"New Buffalo will become a very important harbor in the state's system of such facilities, serving as the gateway to Michigan waters on the Great Lakes from the south," states Wilson. "Public facilities are now found at 84 locations along state shores on Lakes Michigan, Superior, Huron and Erie, providing docking, fuel, and emergency services for boaters plying these waters."

Also under construction at New Buffalo is a $80,000 boat launching ramp, expected to be completed in 1977.

At Harbor Beach on Lake Huron, the mooring facility will be closed throughout 1976 because the concessionaire who had planned on operating the Harbor Beach Dock has decided that he cannot undertake the responsibility to operate the facility due to severe damage caused by winter storms, says Wilson.

"Last year, gas, water and sewage pumpout services were available at this facility, but will not be this boating season," he notes. "Future plans call for the construction of a new state dock within the breakwall, but no timetable has been set."

Outdoor Trail

A Powder Puff Derby fishing contest will be sponsored by the Southwest Michigan Chapter of the Michigan Steelheaders on Saturday.

The derby runs from 6 a.m. to 1 p.m. There is an entry fee of $5 per boat, which includes a picnic afterwards.

Contest rules allow men to pilot boats, set lines, set hooks and not fish, but the women and children must fight the fish.

The family affair will conclude with a picnic at Riverview Park at 1 p.m., where prizes will be awarded.

The weigh-in of fish will start at 11 a.m. at Riverview Park and conclude when the contest ends at 1 p.m. The contest is limited to families of chapter members.

Entries should be sent to Southwest Michigan Steelheaders, P.O. Box 141, St. Joseph, Mich. 49785.

There will be quail hunting again this fall in Berrien, Cass, Van Buren and Allegan counties.

Heavy snows that blanketed southern Lower Michigan last winter apparently did not bother quail as much as feared, reports the Department of Natural Resources.

In fact, quail will be legal game in 27 counties overall this fall, just three less than in 1975. Populations are down in Oakland, Saginaw and Clinton counties where quail hunting will not be allowed this fall.

"Quail hunting should be just as good this year as last year, and that's really surprising to us," states DNR biologist Frederick W. Stuever, who coordinated a recently completed quail survey. "We thought the deep snow during the winter and spring would really give quail a severe beating, but fortunately it didn't."

Joining the four area counties in this fall's season will be Barry, Branch, Calhoun, Eaton, Genesee, Gratiot, Hillsdale, Ingham, Ionia, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Lenawee, Livingston, Macomb, Manistee, Montcalm, Muskegon, St. Clair, St. Joseph, Shiawassee, Tuscola, Washtenaw and Wayne.

The season will run from Oct. 22 through Nov. 25.

Possible introduction of whooping cranes in the Upper Peninsula's Houghton National Forest is a long-range objective of Bill Taylor of the U.S. Forest Service.

Whooping cranes are an endangered species. Currently, the only area where they nest is a small sector of the Northwest Territories in Canada.

Taylor says that years ago whoopers nested in cattail marshes. Pressure from people caused them to shift breeding grounds to bogs.

Sandhill cranes raise families in the same type of habitat now in the U.P., so Taylor has hopes of raising whoopers in Michigan. But a complete study of sandhill cranes is the first step.

If it is eventually determined that the introduction of whooping cranes is feasible in the U.P., the next move would be obtaining eggs rather than adult birds. Sandhill crane eggs would be removed from active nests and replaced by whooper eggs.

The foster parents would care for the young despite the change. Crane egg transplants such as this have already been done successfully in a western state.

The Corps "Cash-for-Cans" recycling program, operating in 11 western states, collected 10,427,028 pounds of aluminum in 1975 — 38 per cent of the overall 199,000,000 pounds recycled nationwide during the year.

Fishing Report

Perch fishing on the rocks and off the piers for southwestern Michigan anglers on Lake Michigan is still in the developing stage, according to Department of Natural Resources reports.

The DNR says there has been no "hand over fist" catches yet, but the jumbo size (nine to 12 inches) of some of the fish being caught is encouraging.

Lake trout fishing on Lake Michigan has been "fair," with much of the success while trolling over 110 to 150 feet of water with lures 60 to 100 feet down.

Salmon success on the Big Lake has been closer to shore.

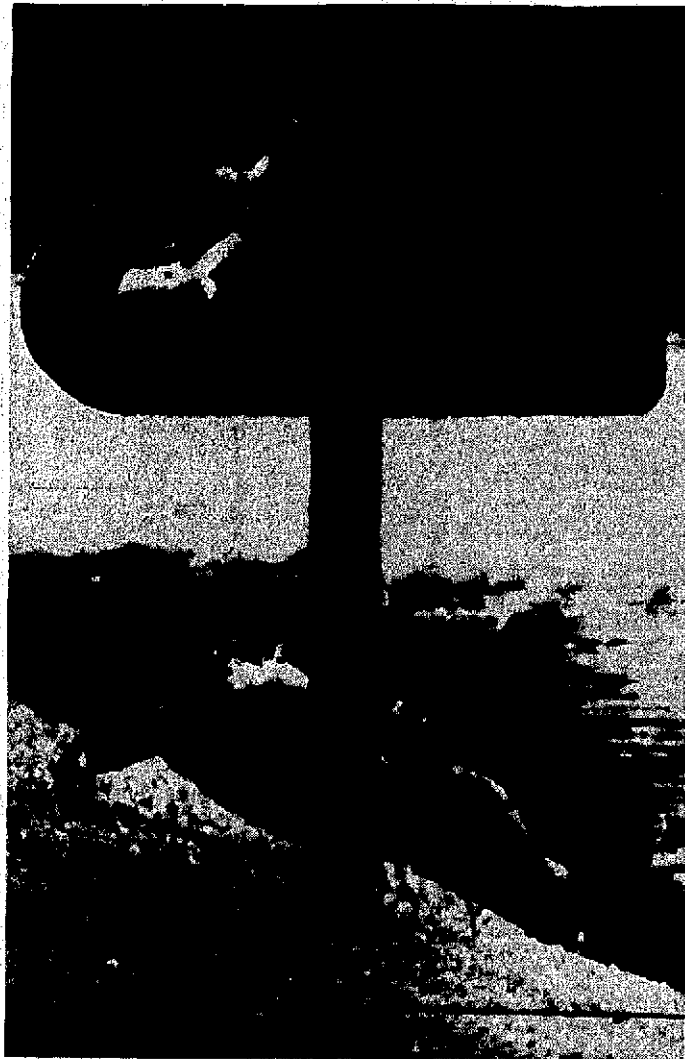

On the inland lakes, the warmer weather is moving fish into deeper water at mid-day, making early morning and late evening fishing the most productive.

Wigglers, wax worms, nightcrawlers and fly fishing are top baits for bluegills. The better waters have included Duck Lake in Allegan county; Diamond Lake in Cass county; and Crooked, Three Mile, Sister and Eagle Lakes in Van Buren county.

Lake Sixteen in Allegan county has been a good trout producer.

Stay With Boat

If your boat should capsize or swamp, don't attempt to swim to shore, advises the St. Joseph Coast Guard Auxiliary. It is probably much farther than it looks. Stay with the boat. Most pleasure craft will stay afloat when filled with water.

New York Gets Research Boat

CAPE VINCENT, N.Y. (AP) — The state Department of Environmental Conservation has commissioned its first Great Lakes research vessel, the $80,000 Seth Green.

The vessel, a 42-foot-long, modified lobster boat, began work last week, and is scheduled to spend up to one week each taking fish samples and studying water conditions on Lake Ontario, the Niagara River and the St. Lawrence River.

"Before the arrival of the white man, Lake Ontario and the other Great Lakes were a boundless source of fish," state EnCon Commissioner Peter Berle said during commissioning ceremonies.

"Industrialization, with its accompanying pollution, and the introduction of the sea lamprey as the lakes were opened up to ocean-going vessels, changed all this."

EnCon officials said while the department has been working to upgrade Great Lakes fishing, it has been unable to monitor deep-water conditions because it did not have a research vessel. With the Seth Green, the state plans trawling operations to study patterns of fish movement, growth, lamprey scarring and pesticide concentrations. The Seth Green, named for the founder of the first fish hatchery in the world, at Caledonia, N.Y., will join a second Great Lakes research vessel, the Coltus, operated by the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources.

Tennessee Once Like Michigan

From Associated Press
Hot and steamy Tennessee once had a climate like present-day Michigan's, according to a pair of Michigan-native Memphis State University researchers.

Hazel and Paul Delcourt—a biologist and a geologist—recently unearthed ancient white spruce cones at a "dig" in Memphis, Tenn. Today, "no such cones survive further south than Michigan's Thumb area."

All the digging began in March when two boys were playing in a construction site just before it was due to be paved over as a shopping mall parking lot. At their feet they found a tusk, protruding from the dusty soil.

Anthropologists carefully removed layers of topsoil and clay from the tusk, and discovered a skull. Examination of the teeth revealed that the parking lot was the grave of a mastodon that roamed the area some 18,000 years ago, during the last ice age.

The Delcourts, along with a team of Memphis State scientists and a Smithsonian Institution animal research specialist from Maryland, have been working at the site ever since.

They never found the rest of the mastodon, but the site has proved fruitful in other ways. Parts of insects, plants, a turtle shell and bones of other ancient animals are giving researchers a good picture of what the area was like in prehistory.

Paul Delcourt, 27, said, "We had scoured the southeastern state for a site with fossilized remains near to a natural body of water. Until now, we were never able to find a spot that would allow coordinated research of both land and aquatic life forms in the same place."

"The discovery of this site will fill a large gap in our knowledge of the development of the country's climate and vegetation patterns," said Mrs. Delcourt, 24. "Similar sites are available for all other sections of the country."

It's not the first time the Delcourts have worked together. She came from Muskegon; he, from Sterling Heights. They both received bachelor degrees from Albion College, then went on to Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge.

Now, they are doctoral candidates at the University of Minnesota - Minneapolis.

They plan a life of research together, with her specialty in comparative ecology and his in geological research providing the keys to help unlock more secrets from the past of America's Southwest.

WEDNESDAY MEETING

Berrien Township To Present Honors

BERRIEN CENTER — The Berrien Township Bicentennial committee will meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Berrien Township hall in Berrien Center for the monthly meeting and will present two citations to the Berrien township board at 8 p.m. that same evening.

The citations, framed in native walnut frames, include a "Congratulatory Citation for the Berrien Township Bicentennial Committee" from President Gerald Ford and the "Official American Revolution Bicentennial Association Citation" from that association. They cite the Berrien Township Bicentennial committee for its many and various programs and projects in the township.

Ebon Ullery, committee chairman and Mrs. Lufs Foster, committee executive secretary, will make the presentations.

The official Bicentennial flag and an American flag which has flown over the nation's capital in Washington D.C., will also be presented to the board.

Berrien Township Supervisor Lowell Bruce, by resolution of the township board is requesting that all bells in the township join in the nationwide July 4 "Bell Ringing" at 2 p.m. for two minutes. The Township Bicentennial committee joined him in urging residents to ring bells (school, church, dinnerbells, etc.) at exactly 200 years to the minute of the original ringing of the Liberty Bell.

The township Bicentennial committee, through the township board, is sponsoring Anne Prillwitz of Berrien Center and Scott Foster of Niles to the "Express America" Bicentennial Youth Conference on American Values at Olivet college June 25-27. The conference is endorsed by Michigan American Revolution Bicentennial commission and is co-ordinated by the state YMCA of Michigan.

Buchanan Erases Pink Slips For 13

BUCHANAN — In the wake of last week's successful millage election, the Buchanan school board last night voted to rehire 13 of the 14 teachers it put on job termination notice in March.

The action came just one week after school district voters approved three millage requests totaling 20.4 mills, thus assuring funds school officials said were needed to rehire the teachers. The teachers had been notified that a shortage of funds might result in their not being rehired next fall.

One of the teachers was dismissed by the board after the pink slips were issued, according to Supt. Richard Dougherty.

The board instructed Dougherty to notify the teachers they are to be rehired.

In other areas, the board voted to pay $70,432 to the architectural firm of Daverman and Associates, Grand Rapids, as the construction management fee for the new middle school. The board agreed to consider a request from Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Worland who asked that their son, Stephen, be issued a diploma even though he left high school after completing his junior year last year to enroll at the University of Michigan.

The boy did not take a required American government course and did not fulfill the requirement that students must attend seven semesters before graduating, according to Dougherty. Dr. Worland told the board the boy needs the diploma to be eligible to receive an $800 scholarship.

The board voted to apply to the state finance commission for approval to borrow $700,000 against anticipated taxes for operating funds.

In response to a letter from Rev. Keith Morrow who suggested a committee of residents be established on school financial matters, the board agreed to invite him to a meeting to further discuss the proposal. The board agreed to hire a second special education teacher for high school area students. The second teacher is needed to help with the expected 34 to 38 special education students next fall in the Buchanan district.

The board accepted the resignation of Richard Proud, middle school principal, who plans to enter private industry, and accepted the retirement of Mrs. Anna Houseworth, principal of Indian Hills elementary school.

South Haven Shuns Zone Law Action

By TOM RENNER

South Haven Correspondent
SOUTH HAVEN — A proposed new zoning ordinance for South Haven was referred back to the city planning commission by the city council last night after meeting some opposition from councilmen.

The planning commission has been working on the zoning ordinance more than two years. Little citizen comment about the new legislation has been heard during a series of public meetings and hearings.

However, last night some councilmen said the proposed ordinance in their opinion contains too many ambiguities and if adopted will be too difficult to administer.

The ordinance was to have been adopted last night, but instead was returned to the planning commission after some aldermen said the planners had not been responsive enough to the wishes of some property owners who disagreed with the proposed zoning of their land.

In other matters, council by a 4 to 3 vote rejected an administrative recommendation that Black River street around the municipal marina be made one-way westbound during the summer months.

The one-way traffic was recommended to alleviate traffic flow problems as well as increasing parking spaces. However, it was rejected on the grounds that traffic problems would be created in other areas because of the change in vehicular flow.

Opposed to the one-way street were Aldermen Norman Books, Matthew Goetz, Robert Warren and Wilbur Ingham. In favor were Mayor Richard Lewis and Aldermen Joseph Seiler and Ronald Kozlik.

Citing a current problem from persons drinking alcoholic beverages on the city's beaches, the council exercised its emergency powers to give immediate effect to an ordinance prohibiting the consumption of intoxicants on public property.

Council had been notified several months ago that contradictory ordinances regarding alcoholic consumption on public property made police enforcement impossible. Council chief waited until a new police chief was hired to determine a course of action. Normally an ordinance would be introduced at one meeting, adopted at the next and placed into effect 10 days later.

Council by a 5 to 2 vote authorized filing a pre-application with the Department of Natural Resources to assist in funding the construction of new restroom facilities at the south beach and the lot 1st playground. Projects would cost $49,000 with the city and state sharing the expense. Opposed on grounds that the projects were too expensive were Books and Goetz.

Council authorized the Bicentennial commission to conduct several musical events in Johnston park, but denied the request of a Holland minister to hold religious services in city parks. The Church of Christ at South Haven was also denied permission to park a trailer on the city streets during the community's blueberry festival.

The Black River Amateur Radio club was given permission to use the old city hall site on Phoenix street June 26-27 to participate in an emergency testing field day in conjunction with the American Radio Relay League.

Daniel Mezak, 289 North Shore drive, was appointed to a vacancy on the planning commission.

Council noted it is accepting applications from persons who would like to operate a taxi service in the city. Aldermen noted that the current taxi is not providing satisfactory service.

Council set its next meeting for July 6, one day later than normal because of the Independence Day holiday.

Fund Set Up To Help Burned-Out Family Of 7

A special checking account fund to receive donations has been set up to help the Edward H. Parmer Jr., family whose home and belongings were destroyed in a fire last week.

The checking account fund was set up last Friday at the Peoples State bank, St. Joseph, by Stephen Stauchbach, of 3372 Hartman road, Sodus. Stauchbach is a friend of the Parmer family.

The fire at the Parmer house, 420 Highman Park road, Benton township, was on June 15. No one was hurt. Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Stauchbach said Mr. and Mrs. Parmer have five children ranging from ages 10-17 and that insurance will cover about one-third of the family's loss.

He added that anyone who would like to make a donation to help the Parmers can do so in Mr. Parmer's name at the Peoples State bank, Stauchbach said. "Every bit will help whether the amount be large or small. Also, leave your name at the bank so that you may be thanked for your kind deed."

Parmer is employed at the Pepsi Cola Metropolitan Bottling Co., near Scottsdale. Because of the fire, the family is presently split up with various members living with relatives and friends.

Stauchbach said as of Monday morning $175 had been donated to the fund.

Our American Economic System is ☐ good ☐ bad.

Most people have gripes: Inflation. Unemployment. Taxes. Yet, if you checked "good," you join the great majority of Americans (about 80%) who believe that the American Economic System is basically the best in the world.

The question is: how do we overcome the bad without destroying the good?

The more we all know about our system, the better we can decide what to preserve, what to change.

That's why we are offering a booklet that explains our system. It is easy to read, interesting—and free. Every American ought to know what it says.

Compact Car Recall

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. said Monday it is recalling 42,348 current-model compact cars to correct a possible defect in a seat belt mechanism which may fail to restrain an occupant in a collision. Affected by the campaign are early production 1976 model Plymouth Volare and Dodge Aspen two-door coupes. Chrysler said the floor-mounted retractors for the front seat belts may fail to engage the locking mechanism.

Dowagiac Principal Gets New Position

DOWAGIAC — The Dowagiac school board last night appointed St. Miller, present principal of the central junior high school, to succeed Paul Foss as director of curriculum and certified personnel.

Foss, 45, whose resignation was accepted prior to the appointment, is leaving to become superintendent of schools in Lahore, Pakistan. He has been with the Dowagiac system for the past two years, having come from an administrative position in Bogota, Colombia.

Miller, 42, has also been in Dowagiac two years. He came from Pelham, N.Y. His new job is the equivalent of assistant superintendent.

In other areas, the board granted minimal cash salary adjustments to members of the administrative staff, but supplemented these by assuming five per cent retirement payments for them and other classified personnel.

Dexter Clough, lower middle school principal, will receive $18,000, compared to his salary this year of $17,250 as principal of McKinley school.

Muri Reitor, principal of Kincheloe elementary, will receive $17,250, the same as the present year.

Mrs. Winifred Gurney, principal at Justus Gage elementary, will receive $16,500, compared to $16,000 this year.

Herbert Burden, who will be principal of McKinley elementary, will receive $16,750, compared to $17,000 he earned this year as Patrick Hamilton elementary principal.

David Strlekar, principal of Sister Lakes elementary, will receive $16,500, compared to $16,000 this year.

Mrs. Jackie Burden, principal of Lincoln elementary, will receive $16,500, compared to $16,000 this year.

Miller is to receive $22,500, the same salary Foss got this year.

Donald Welland, new business manager will receive $20,000, compared to $20,300 received by R. Gordon Anderson, who recently gave up the post. Anderson, it was announced last night, will become a fourth grade teacher at Lincoln school. Melvin Jager, high school principal, will get $21,500, compared to $21,250 this year.

Richard Boles, assistant high school principal, will receive $18,500, compared to $18,000.

Harold Wheeler, who will be upper middle school principal next fall, is to receive $18,000. This compares with Miller's present $21,000 he received this year as junior-high principal. Wheeler was assistant principal this year at the junior high, making $16,300.

The board rejected bids received from citizens for the purchase of two houses constructed by the building and trades class during the past two years.

The board decided to turn the property over to a realtor for sale.

Mrs. Josephine Miller, who retired as a teacher here when classes ended this month, was recognized for having taught in Cass county for 33 years of which the last 25 were at Justus Gage. Mrs. Aline Krogel, also retiring, was recognized for having taught in the Dowagiac system 13 years, of which the last seven were at Kincheloe school.

The board presented a certificate to Clare Lee, outdoors grounds keeper, who is retiring after 14 years with the system.

Stanley McGrew was recognized for his outstanding service as bus supervisor. It was noted that the Dowagiac buses have received a 100 per cent state police rating for three consecutive years.

Berrien To Ask For Flood Insurance

BERRIEN SPRINGS — The Berrien Springs village council last night voted to apply for inclusion in the national flood insurance program.

Included in the council action was a resolution pledging the village to conform to federal standards of flood protection.

If approved by federal officials, the program would allow any village resident living on the St. Joseph river flood plain to take out low-cost federal flood insurance.

Only the village-owned waste water treatment plant in Shamrock park will be immediately involved.

"For our treatment plant to be eligible for any future federal grants, we must take out the insurance," said Wade Gorham, village clerk.

In other actions, the council voted to close to traffic the 100 block of North Bluff street on Saturday night July 3.

A public dance will be held by the American Legion.

Sealed bids on the construction of sidewalk and purchase of a half-ton pickup truck were opened.

Hoffman and Roe builders of Stevensville had the lowest of four bids on the sidewalk, $1,161.

The new construction is planned for the east side of North Kimmel, near the restored old county courthouse.

The bids were sent to the street committee for evaluation and recommendation.

The three bids on a pickup truck were sent to the public property committee which was given authority to buy when 1977 trucks become available. Dealers bidding on the truck said 1976 trucks were no longer available.

The council voted to support the Berrien county Bicentennial pageant, to be held at the youth fair grounds on July 21-24.

Berrien Springs will be the only village in the county which will be decorated as part of the pageant, and the council voted to decorate the village hall and to ask village businesses to similarly support the pageant.

An offer to sell a lot at 111 North Cass street to the village for $13,500 was tabled by the council. The land includes a recently-burned building and an undamaged garage.

As the next regularly scheduled meeting of the council is July 5, a legal holiday, the council voted to meet instead on July 8, at 8 p.m.

Police Suspensions Upheld

DETROIT (AP) — A judge ruled Monday the City of Detroit was within its rights in suspending 77 policemen it claims do not live in the city, even though the officers did not get a hearing.

Some politicians would like to add more middlemen to the oil industry.

Dowagiac Stalls Garbage Pickup Payment Issue

DOWAGIAC — An ordinance to make payment for a citywide garbage pickup service mandatory was tabled until July 6 by the Dowagiac city council last night.

Councilmen delayed action on the proposal by City Manager Henry Graper Jr. because of what several councilmen termed "unanswered questions" and because two councilmen, David Groner and Robert Hess, were absent from the meeting.

The city manager said that mandatory payment for the service would probably induce more city residents to use the pickup.

Under the proposal individual residents and business owners would be required to pay a monthly fee.

Under Graper's plan, Solid Waste Disposal of Dowagiac, which now contracts with private home owners and businessmen for once-a-week pickup at a $1.50 monthly cost, would also handle the mandatory pickup at $2.75 per customer.

Graper said pickup would be cheaper because the firm would have all the businesses and some 1,300 households in the city as customers.

In other action, the council heard first reading of an ordinance that would create a curfew for most city teenagers and one that would establish a corporation for attracting business to the city.

he proposed curfew would keep children of 13 and under off the streets between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m. and those 17 and under off the streets between midnight and 6 a.m.

Exempted would be those accompanied by parents, guardians or adults, or on their way to or from specific events or out at the direction of parents, city officials said.

The council is expected to take action on the second-reading of the ordinance at its next meeting.

Also to get a second reading at the next meeting is a proposal to create and incorporate an Economic Development corporation that would work to lure business to the city.

Richard M. Juckl Jr., Raymond Tutwiler and Dr. James Burke asked for the formal approval as being "necessary and desirable for improvement of the economic welfare of the citizens of Dowagiac."

Incorporation of the group will make it eligible for grants and loans, city officials said.

The council set for July 19, at 7:45 p.m., a public hearing on a request by Dowagiac Manufacturing company for local approval of a tax exemption on a plant addition the company is planning.

Details of the planned addition and how much in taxes the exemption would save the company are to be made public at the hearing, Graper said.

The council also approved a lease-purchase agreement with Bob Howe, Inc., of Dowagiac, the only firm to bid, to sell the city a 1975, heavy duty dump truck for use by the public works department.

Under terms of the agreement approved by the council, the city will lease the truck at $250 monthly for two years and afterwards complete purchase with a $6,000 payment.

Because of the July 4 holiday, the council voted to meet on July 6, rather than on its regular meeting date which would have fallen on July 5.

2 FOR: 1 AGAINST
NEW YORK (AP) — Betty Ford and Rosalynn Carter support the proposed Equal Rights Amendment to the Constitution. Nancy Reagan is opposed to the amendment.

They want to dismember America's major oil companies. To break them into little pieces—some to explore and drill for oil—some to transport it—some to refine it—and perhaps still others to market the finished products. This, according to these politicians, will increase competition and lead to lower prices.

Even now, there are many independent middlemen in the oil industry—refiners, pipeline companies and marketers both small and large. But this does not mean that an industry limited to smaller, single-function companies can get the job done.

Acts of Congress calling for "divestiture" of production, transportation, refining and marketing functions by the major oil companies will create new layers of "middlemen" in our energy industry—each needing his own reasonable profit margin in order to stay in business. When all of these profit units are added together, they must result in higher prices to you, the ultimate consumer.

In the past five years, the top oil companies have earned less return on equity than companies in many other industries. That return, at least, is necessary to generate the multi-billion dollar investments to find and produce new domestic oil.

If the oil companies are forced to dismember their production, transportation, refining and marketing functions, what is left will not be able to generate the capital needed to find new domestic sources of energy. Our dependence on foreign oil can only worsen.

What this great country needs now is an effective energy policy that will make us more self-sufficient. Breaking up the oil companies and adding more middlemen is hardly an answer. If you agree, write your Senators and Representative.

Our job is you.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Market
Forges Ahead

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market pushed ahead again today in a bid to surpass its previous 1976 peak.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up about a point at around the 1,008 level in the early going. Gainers took a 5-4 lead over losers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

In the economic news, the Labor Department reported that its consumer price index rose at a 7.2 per cent annual rate last month for its biggest increase in six months.

But the figure appeared to be about what Wall Street had expected. NCR, the early volume leader among Big Board stocks, slipped 1/4 to 32 3/4 in a 175,000-share block trade.

On Monday, the Dow Jones industrial average rose 5.57 to 1,007.45, moving to within 4 points of its previous closing high for the year of 1,011.02.

Gainers outpaced losers by about a 5-3 margin among NYSE-listed issues, and the exchange's composite index advanced 1/2 to 55.53.

Big Board volume was a moderate 18.93 million shares. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up .18 at 105.05.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

Don't Be In Hurry
To Double Money

Q. I am a widow, living on a lifetime pension plus income from $100,000 savings. I have a desperate urge to leave my two sons $100,000 each. How can I double this $100,000 as soon as possible?

A. I can't imagine any "urge" desperate enough to encourage a widow to risk her nest egg by trying to double it "as soon as possible."

At 8 1/2 per cent, money doubles in about 8 1/2 years (not counting annual income taxes during those doubling years). Any proposal to double the money faster by taking chances in speculative stocks or bonds will get no endorsement here.

Q. I'm considering an investment program in a no-load mutual fund. Please send me a complete list.

A. I have no complete, up-to-the-minute list. But a new, comprehensive directory of no-load mutual funds has just been published and made available, free of charge, by the No-Load-Mutual Fund Association, Valley Forge, Pa.

1981. All you need do is ask for one. The new directory gives not only the names, addresses and telephone numbers of the 71 member funds, but breaks them down as to goals, size, reinvestment, dividends, minimum purchases, etc.

Q. We are concerned about holding six $10,000 Treasury bonds, plus three $10,000 A.T. & T. bonds. Should we shift to some other securities?

A. I can't imagine any other securities which would give you less reason for concern. Q. I am going to retire and sell $200,000 in real estate. Should I take back a 10 per cent mortgage, or ask for all the money which I could then reinvest in corporate bonds?

A. Corporate bonds of the highest quality today yield either side of the 8 1/2-9 1/2 per cent range. I imagine you know real estate, so only you can decide whether that 10 per cent mortgage would be as safe as a top quality corporate mortgage (AAA or AA), which has had excellent records over the last half century.

MR. SHULSKY welcomes written questions, but he will be able to provide answers only through the column.

For information on corporate and tax-exempt bonds, please include a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Address your requests to Sam Shulsky, care of this newspaper.

Food Leads New Price Spiral

WASHINGTON (AP) — The largest increase in food costs in 10 months helped push consumer prices up six-tenths of a per cent during May, the biggest monthly jump since last November, the government said today.

The Labor Department said the May figures mean that inflation now is running at an annual rate of 7.2 per cent. The May performance compared with a consumer price increase of four-tenths of a per cent in April.

Market
Down On Berries

Prices to growers for strawberries were lower yesterday at the Benton Harbor Fruit Market during a slow trading day, Mike Pfeiffer, USDA Market News reporter, said. Prices Monday were:

18-qt. crate — Medium to large $8.75 to $9.25, best mostly $9.25; late sales $7.50; small to medium $8 to $8.50, some fair appearance and late sales $7 to $7.50. Receipts: 5,880.

8-qt. flat — $4 to $5, mostly $4.50 to $4.75, few early sales $3.50 to $4. Receipts: 1,057.

There were five day buyers on hand yesterday as growers brought 110 loads of produce onto the trading lanes.

Profit Dip Reported
By Edison

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Edison said Monday its earnings for the 12-month period ending May 31 were $66.2 million, or $1.35 per share, down from figures recorded in the same period a year ago.

The latest figures compare with earnings of $71.5 million, or $1.55 per share for last year's comparable period.

The earnings show a continued decline in earnings, according to company officials, who said the drop is due primarily to higher costs of production, maintenance and for buying power to replace that lost when generating units were out of service for repairs.

Edison is appealing the denial of a rate increase which would allow the firm to collect an additional $13.8 million through next Dec. 31.

Edison also has asked the state Public Service Commission for a rate increase of $10.6 million, with $53.1 million granted immediately. Hearings begin in about a month.

VW Will Import Rabbit Parts

DETROIT (AP) — Volkswagen says it will rely mainly on body and mechanical parts exported from Germany in its U.S. production, planned to begin by the fall of 1977.

Arthur Rallton, vice president of VW of America, said on Monday plans now call for initial assembly of Rabbit models "with a minimum of U.S.-sourced parts" except those already being purchased from U.S. suppliers.

"It takes quite a while to set up the kind of supplier network we are thinking about, and only those parts for which contracts can be negotiated quickly will be purchased in this country at the outset," he said.

"However, over a period of perhaps five years, we would expect that almost everything but engines and transmissions would be purchased from American suppliers," Rallton added.

A tentative agreement is being finalized by executives of the German auto maker and the State of Pennsylvania, under which VW would occupy a 900-acre plant at New Stanton. The plant was built but never used by Chrysler Corp. It is expected negotiations will be completed next week.

Rallton said meeting the self-imposed deadline to begin U.S. operations was an important factor in Volkswagen's decision to phase in American parts. But the executive said equally important was the desire for a smooth production startup in this country.

"There are sometimes difficulties when you change suppliers," he said. "We are trying to have everything operate smoothly right from the start, and this is one way to minimize the normal trauma of a production launch."

"Our ultimate goal is to get as much American content in the Rabbit as we possibly can."

He said VW expects in the future to purchase body stampings, tires, wheels and brakes from American companies.

"After all, when you are trying to cut down on shipping costs, you are not going to ship anything you can buy here," Rallton said.

NEW BUYERS STALLED
Market Board
Lacks A Quorum

Recent Benton Harbor city commission inaction is not only affecting Benton Harbor citizens but area fruit growers as well, the manager of the Benton Harbor fruit market said last night. Al Braudo, manager of the market, said negotiations are currently going on with two major chain stores to establish offices at the market.

But Braudo said the Benton Harbor market board, which is comprised of the members of the city commission, has not been able to meet with a quorum to aid in negotiations and draw up leases. "Some 300 to 400 fruit growers are being neglected because of this," Braudo told The Herald-Palladium. "It's not just the city, it's a good part of the agricultural community."

Coloma
Chief Tells Of Escape

COLOMA — A farm worker arrested for possessing open intoxicants in a vehicle escaped from the Coloma township police station about 2 a.m. today by sneaking out the back door, according to Police Chief Robert Cottier.

Cottier said he would seek a warrant for the arrest of John Leslie Lowe, 23, in connection with the early morning escape.

Cottier said the escape took place shortly after the man in custody asked to go to the toilet. The prisoner managed to sneak out the back door without being seen by Officer Roy Davis, who was alone in the station at the time, Cottier said.

Lowe and another farm worker, Bobby George Williams, 38, were both arrested about 12:30 a.m. and brought to the station by Officer Gary Wigen, according to Cottier.

Lowe had been charged with possessing open intoxicants in a vehicle and with two traffic violations. Williams had been charged with drunk and disorderly. Both were awaiting transportation to the Berrien county jail when the escape occurred, Cottier said.

Wigen had left the station prior to the escape to cover a traffic accident, Cottier said.

Rychly Is Re-Elected
Chairman

BUCHANAN — The Pioneer Community Farm Bureau re-elected Adolph Rychly as its chairman for 1976-77 during its annual meeting recently.

Other officers elected were William Schwab, package repumper; Gerald Tichenor, nightman; Mrs. Adolph Rychly, secretary-treasurer; Jack Harroff, discussion leader; and Mrs. Jack Harroff, representative to the Berrien county Farm Bureau women's committee.

The group's annual mid-summer outing and picnic has been set for 1 p.m., Sunday, July 18, at Island park, Niles.

Five Demand Examinations In District Court

Roscoe T. Mullins, 27, of 797 Weld street, Benton Harbor, demanded preliminary examination Monday in Berrien Fifth District court on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

He was jailed under $15,000 bond on the charge, which involved a pistol, the warrant stated.

Others demanding examinations were:

George Griffin, 58, of Santa Ana, Calif., on charges of assault with a deadly weapon against Ervin D. Stone and carrying a concealed pistol. The alleged offenses occurred in Benton township June 21.

Kenneth P. Huff, 19, of 2992 Territorial, Benton Harbor charged with possession of marijuana with intent to deliver June 20 in Benton township. He was released on a $2,500 personal recognizance bond.

Evans C. Hartzell, Jr., 18, of 903 Greenwood avenue, St. Joseph, accused of possession of the drug phenitrimine in St. Joseph May 12. He was tried on a $1,000 personal recognizance bond.

Florence Jones, 46, of Detroit, charged with carrying concealed pistol June 19 in Lincoln township. A $500 bond was posted.

Sentenced for the following violations were:

Assault and battery against police officers — Robert W. Kelley, 17, of 33 South Barton; New Buffalo, fine and costs of $50 or 10 days in jail, against New Buffalo Patrolman Ed Lyons; David J. Jackson, 17, of 108 Cherry street, Three Oaks, $50 or 10 days in jail, against New Buffalo Patrolman Steve Siebenmark; Kenneth Cartwright, no age or address known, $50 or 10 days in jail, against Watervliet Police Chief Bart Rose.

Assault and battery — Rufus Larkins (also known as Lott), 22, and Jerry Briggs, 21, both of 848 Edgecombe, Benton Harbor, $50 or 15 days in jail each, against Joyce Casnave.

Petty larceny — Rosie M. Clay, 26, of 287 Ross street Benton Harbor, and Larry Butler, 22, of Itelena, Ark., each $121 or 30 days in jail.

Disorderly person — Laura M. Montgomery, 25, of 25 Pavone, and Christine L. Carter, 32, of 151 East Empire, both of Benton Harbor; and Jerry L. Smith, 21, of Joliet, Ill., each $32.

Use of marijuana — Elbert L. Anderson, 20, of 718 Ogden, Benton Harbor; Kathy M. Buck, 17, of John Beers road, Stevensville; and Christopher H. Jordan, 21, of Farmington, each $50 or 10 days in jail.

Driving while license suspended, revoked or denied — William Gray, 46, of Clarksville, Tenn., three days in jail and $60 or five days in jail total; Thomas J. Polmsouner, 20, of 105 Charles, Buchanan, three days in jail and $90 or 12 days in jail total; Alfred B. Hall, 41, of Lansing, three days in jail and $61 or 30 days in jail total; Sidney A. Hickmott, 19, of Portage, three days in jail and $90; Larry A. Fowler, 19, of 1188 Adams, St. Joseph, four days in jail and $65; Richard L. Winslow, 23, of 1494 Agard avenue, Benton township, 30 days in jail for the violation during an accident.

Driving while intoxicated — Earl H. Austin, 40, of Detroit, $150 or 30 days in jail; Ellis King, 42, of Halesville, Ala.; Charles W. Goodman, Jr., 20, of Alamo, Texas; and Raymond Ellis, 36, of South Bend, Ind., $152 or 30 days in jail each.

Impaired driving — Jose Bueno, 21, of Chicago, and Earl L. Johnson, 35, of South Bend, $102 or 14 days in jail each; Leroy Harvey, 31, of 681 East Main street, Benton Harbor, $250 and one year probation for second offense.

MINT OIL TAX
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state Senate has sent to the House a bill to repeal Michigan's mint oil tax. The bill, passed 28-1, would affect the A.M. Todd Co. in Kalamazoo, which has paid some $30,000 a year to local government through a new special business tax.

Hearing Is Asked In Stabbing Death

A Sodus township woman accused of manslaughter in connection with the stabbing death of the man demanded a preliminary examination Monday in Berrien Fifth District court.

Held in the county jail under $25,000 bond was Lula Mae Pope, 61, charged in the death of James Williams, 54. The two were farm workers on the August Schroeder farm, 6292 River road, Sodus township, Berrien sheriff's deputies said.

Deputies reported that Williams died from a single stab wound to the heart Saturday afternoon in a migrant cabin.

John Smietanka, Berrien prosecutor, said that the investigation indicated that the killing occurred in "the heat of passion." For that reason, the prosecutor said, a manslaughter charge was authorized rather than the murder charge which police brought against her.

Pusher Is Handed Prison Term For Sale Of Heroin

A Texan who sold one ounce of heroin to an undercover state policeman for $2,500 was sentenced Monday in Berrien Circuit court to 2½ to 20 years in prison.

Receiving the prison term from Judge Julian E. Hughes was Salvador A. Villarreal, 24, of Brownsville, Texas, for delivery of heroin. He sold the heroin to an undercover state police trooper Feb. 20 in Niles.

Hughes noted one state police post had recommended leniency but said the amount of heroin dictated a prison sentence. The judge also told Villarreal that had it not been for a number of good points on his record, the sentence probably would have been 10 to 20 years.

In other sentences by Hughes: Van Johnson, 21, of 724½ Pavone street, Benton Harbor, drew a 2½ to 4-year prison term for larceny from a building—the theft of a purse Feb. 28 from Nina Thompson at a trailer at 1200 East Empire avenue, Benton township.

Jayne Kay Baughman, 26, of Westport, Miss., was sentenced to one year in the county jail for writing a non-sufficient funds check for $250 Aug. 11, 1973, at Goldblatt's in the Fairplain Plaza.

Charles E. Johnson, 19, of 124 Quince, Benton township was ordered to spend the first three months of a two-year probation in jail for larceny in a building—the theft of 32 cases of pop Feb. 24 from the JLC Cola warehouse on Territorial road in Benton township.

In sentences by Judge Chester J. Byrns: Warren Liggett, 30, of Chicago, was placed on three years probation, with the first 90 days in jail, for receiving and concealing stolen property—five CB radars—valued at more than $100 April 21 in Sodus township.

Jeffery A. Vaughn, 18, of 432 Foster, Benton Harbor, was placed on three years probation with the first 30 days in jail, and assessed $250 fine and costs for breaking and entering the residence of Emma Gunn, at 738 Ogden avenue, Benton Harbor, on Jan. 19.

In arraignments before Hughes: Gary Peterson, 26, and Donald Sampson, 25, both of Detroit, both pleaded innocent to charges of possession of heroin May 31 in Lincoln township.

Michael R. Stewart, 21, of Niles, and Terrance L. Stewart, 18, of Cassopolis, both pleaded guilty to assault with intent to rob while armed. They were accused of assaulting Carl Fisher with a shotgun May 12 in Niles township.

Robert D. Sherbino, 22, of Niles, pleaded guilty to issuing a no account check for $242 May 1 at Custom Tire Co. in Niles.

Arzie M. Wade, Jr., 19, of 695 Highland avenue, Benton Harbor, pleaded guilty to attempted uttering and publishing a bad check for $25 March 19 at Parks Party store in Benton Harbor. Fred Wallace, 29, of 363 Walnut, Benton Harbor, pleaded guilty to possession of heroin Nov. 14 in Benton Harbor.

Roscoe Fleming, 17, of 115 Union street, Benton township pleaded guilty to assault with intent to rob while armed stemming from a May 14 pistol assault against Hazel Rye in Benton Harbor.

"Our Yellow Pages display ad under 'Banquet Rooms' brings in 90% of the catering business we get."

When we started advertising in the Yellow Pages we mainly hoped to establish Wyndwicke as a public facility in the minds of potential customers. But, it was perceived as a private country club, and we figured that was costing us business. Multiple listings under 'Golf', 'Restaurant' and 'Banquet Rooms' changed all that! —Mrs. Eyleene G. Booser, Wyndwicke Country Club, Niles Rd., St. Joseph.

Other Yellow Pages advertisers got these results:

"40 calls per week is my estimate of inquiries we get from our Yellow Pages ad."

We think that's real pulling power, and that's why we've been running the largest size ad available. It's the kind of help we would never hope to be without! —Don F. Haynes, Twin Cities Glass Co., Cofax, Benton Harbor.

"A lot of our out-of-town business can be attributed to our Benton Harbor Yellow Pages ad. Out-of-towners who want to dine out always turn to the Yellow Pages because it's the only handy guide they have. It pays for itself... don't see how any restaurateur can afford to be without it!" Andy Andrews, The Captain's Table, Riverview Dr., Benton Harbor.

"Eight out of ten new business calls we receive come from our Yellow Pages ad."

People with a 'pest' problem usually look in the Yellow Pages first. That's why we take a half-page in the Benton Harbor Directory... the largest ad we can buy! —Bill Peden, Excel Termite Service, Milton, Benton Harbor.
